Preparing for the High Holy Days

As I write this I am busy preparing for the High Holy Days. But this year my preparations are very different than they have been in the past.

Usually at this time I am totally overwhelmed with ideas and research. I am busy writing and thinking and immersing myself in the themes of these sacred days and the challenges of our current times.

But this year my preparations have taken a very different kind of a tenor. As many of you know I am three weeks (as I write this) post-open heart surgery.

I know many of you have experienced what I am now experiencing and some of you have wrestled and continue to wrestle with challenges far greater than mine. But these last few weeks have been quite a journey of ups and downs, physically and emotionally.

Instead of the usual frantic intellectual preparations of Elul, my days consist of long walks, a lot of rest and struggling to get my head back in the game.

The next month will be an interesting progression and I hope that I and the High Holy Days arrive at the same time.

There are major themes we will explore this year, Israel, the questions of our loyalties as American Jews, challenges on the campus. But for me the overriding theme of these High Holy Days will be one of gratitude and I will do everything within my power to share with you this dimension of my summer journey.

As I wrote in one of my journal entries on my way home from the Mayo Clinic in Minnesota:

"...it is an overwhelming sense of gratitude that dominates everything I am feeling.

I am grateful first and foremost to Edy and my children who were at my side each step of the way. I don't know what I would have done without Edy. I won't go so far as to say it has been harder for her than me - but it certainly has not been easy - and she and Ari have some experiences even I don't remember.

I am grateful to God that he has decided this is not yet my time. I have wrestled with God and the wisdom of a lot of His decisions, many of which so far I cannot understand -- but for the record, I agree with this one wholeheartedly.

I am also grateful for the miracle of healing that I am now experiencing. "With wisdom he created us..." the body is a miraculous thing and the progress is there even if it is not a straight line.

I am grateful to a wonderful team of doctors and nurses in Rochester AND in NY who have tended to me with great skill, wisdom and enormous kindness. I will never ever be able to adequately express my appreciation for all you have done - for the support you gave Edy and continue to give me - if half of your patients feel as blessed as I do that you are in my life - you should feel very fulfilled by what you do.

I am grateful to all of you - for your comments, your outreach, your calls, texts and emails, your cards, flowers and edible treats, reading and entertainment materials and of course visits and most of all for your prayers. It is so humbling to know that so many people have expressed such concern and reminds me how fortunate I am to have a community of friends like you to return to.

As the High Holy Days approach I hope you will join me in thinking about this theme of gratitude and asking yourself what are the blessings that we each bring with us as together we begin a new year.

Wishing You a Sweet New Year

FROM THE DESK OF RABBI KERBEL

By Rabbi Paul David Kerbel

"A New Year, New Beginnings"

Rosh Hashanah will be different for me this year. I will be leading a service in a new environment, where I know very few people and everything will be new to me. I will be surrounded by my wife, Melissa and our children but for all of us – this year will be different. We will be learning new names and new customs, new melodies and traditions. Not a bad way to start a year, just different! And I look forward to meeting you and developing personal relationships with so many people in our congregation.

But actually, if we dig deeper into the meaning of Rosh Hashanah, change is what the Yamim Hanoraim, the High Holy Days, are all about. A rabbi who was a helpful mentor to me shared with me a d'var torah he had written and essentially that d'var torah was based on a comment made by a friend to another friend, "You look the same, you haven't changed a bit." The d'var torah went on to explore whether it is a good thing or not, 'to look the same' or, 'to be the same' and not having changed a bit. That rabbi decided that it isn't good or productive to be the same. That in order for us to be better human beings, we need to at least think about change and ask ourselves what we would like to do in the coming year to become a better person, a better human being and a better Jew.

Here are some questions for us to think about as we prepare to begin a new year:

1. What has been my greatest joy in the past year, and what has been my biggest regret?
2. If I could live my life over, would I have changed anything?
3. What achievements am I most proud of?
4. What new skills or knowledge would I like to acquire in the year ahead?
5. If I could change one thing about myself, what would it be?
6. Do I have a vision of where I would like to be a year or five years from now?

"...in order for us to be better human beings, we need to at least think about change and ask ourselves what we would like to do in the coming year to become a better person, a better human being and a better Jew."

— Rabbi Paul David Kerbel

A new year is approaching, for me, for my family and for all of us. I know that this year will be different for me. I will be in Long Island and not in Marietta. I will be with rooms full of faces that I do not yet know and not in a sanctuary where I know virtually every person and their families. It will take time. But change is good! Next year, I will know many more people. I will begin to feel comfortable with new traditions and experiences, new melodies and new customs. Melissa and I look forward to meeting you and sharing so many life cycle events, programs and experiences with you. It is Elul, a time to prepare for new beginnings. Let's hope we are all a little different once we have prayed and reflected during these High Holy Days.

Melissa, Sam & Aliza, Judah and Micha join me in wishing you a year filled with many good things and all of the blessings we so richly deserve!

CANTOR'S NOTES

There is an old Yiddish saying: A Mench Tracht Un Got Lacht. Loosely translated, it means that we make plans and God laughs at us for thinking that we are in control.

I remember years ago when I was a child my parents had such an experience. They had planned a vacation but God had other plans. My parents discovered a week before we were supposed to leave on our vacation that there were termites swarming around our house. They thought it would be a quick fix so they called an exterminator who mapped out a plan to get rid of them which included "exploration" meaning that a small corner of the wall where they came out would be removed to try and discover where they were living so they could be sprayed. As the construction crew continued to investigate where these critters were coming from it, became apparent that they had literally eaten through a room and a half's worth of wood, some of which was now so porous that my parents were amazed that the house didn't fall down. Thankfully, after five weeks of moving furniture around and living through a hellish, dusty mess the ordeal was over and the house was safe again. The vacation, however, had to be postponed.

Now, what would an ordeal like this be if not an opportunity to learn a lesson? So let's try...

As we approach Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, we would like to just come to temple for a little while, pray and sing a bit, chat a bit then go home and go on with our lives. But God has other plans for us. His plan is to give us a real opportunity to deal with our "issues" as we call them. It is interesting to note that just like my parents' little wood eating friends, the sins we try to get rid of during these High Holidays may be well hidden and may not even want to be found. Akin to getting rid of termites, getting to the roots of our sins is work that is laden with digging deep to cleanse our souls of the bad feelings and emotions that build up in us and if we don't do a good job of cleansing, if we only do "patch-work" and try to circumvent the real issues that make us angry and vengeful, our problems only grow and multiply.

When my parents started digging around for the termites, really digging deep, there was no choice but to take down the walls that hid them and pick up the floors to find where they lived and fed. The more they dug, the more termites they found. It became clear that they had been there for years, festering and multiplying like an ugly cancer that eroded parts of our beautiful home almost to powder. Only a total uprooting would get rid of them for good.

Soul searching must be the same. The things that eat away at our souls - anger, revenge, worry, stress, guilt, remorse, depression etc. - all must be dealt with head on and completely. They cannot be ignored, for if we do, we are only harming ourselves. Anger and worry are destructive forces. Anger is an emotion that eats away at us and the only way to deal with it is to confront the person or thing that is angering you and come to terms with them or it. If you are angry that someone hurt you or cheated you, do yourself a favor and meet with this person to make peace and forgive them. Peace, not revenge, is the antidote for anger. Revenge only breeds more anger and a cycle of violence. Worry is also destructive to our souls and it is usually assuaged only by actions that deal with the underlying issues that make us worry. You'll find that just taking the actions to fix that which is worrying you will make you feel better and with God's help will better your situation while calming your worries. Then and only then can your life be more beautiful, serene and secure.

"Anger, revenge, worry, stress, guilt, remorse, depression etc. - all must be dealt with head on and completely. They cannot be ignored for if we do, we are only harming ourselves."

— Cantor Ofer Barnoy

Another lesson that we can learn from my parents' termites as akin to anger and worry is that they do not have regard for the harm that they inflict upon us. My parents' termites were simply eating to survive. They had no intent to destroy our home by their actions. It was only when we took action to completely uproot them that we felt secure again in our home.

The same can be said for anger and worry. They can only harm us if we let them do so by our inaction. Only when we take the actions needed to uproot them can we truly have a happy life free of anger and worry but it is up to us to take action.

So in this New Year I want to wish you all a year of action. Do what is necessary to uproot that which angers and worries you. Get rid of what saddens you and depresses you. When you're at temple this High Holiday, pray hard to God to give you the willingness and wisdom to deal with your problems head on and completely and may this New Year bring you a new beginning to a life free of anger, worry and stress.

Shannah Tovah U'metukkah – May you have a Happy, Healthy and Sweet New Year.

Doogmah eesheet: Lead by personal example

A few weeks ago I met with Lucy Posner, a director of development at JTS. We discussed JTS' many initiatives that are based around the theme of doogmah eesheet. We recognize that the product we are all after – Conservative Jews, Jewish families, synagogue members – is dwindling. If we are to strengthen Jewish identity and tradition, stand up for Israel, promote temple membership, support trumah and tikkun olam, we must lead by example and inspire others.

Throughout the history of the Jewish people and even of this temple we have always learned to adapt and evolve when facing challenging times. Not so long ago, women at this temple could not be counted in a minyan. They were not allowed to sit on the bima. But there were men and women who strived for change. Bernice Cohen became the "Jackie Robinson" of the women's movement at TBS. Like Robinson, she had to stand up to many voices that did not want her occupying certain positions. Since then, our temple has had more amazing female leaders, including Judy Goldberg, Rose Schecter and Susan Zelman. I also must include Lisa Schlesinger who is the keeper of the light for Women's League. These women lead by example and continue to mentor and serve as a resource to countless others.

Yasher koach must also go to the men of this temple. Without their vision, support, dedication and progressive views, this house of worship would not exist, let alone become an egalitarian one. We are blessed with many men and women who donate countless professional hours in their field of expertise for the well being of this community.

While some challenges have been conquered, many more remain. These challenges will only be overcome with action. Indeed, as Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel teaches, as Jews, we are asked to "take a leap of action, rather than a leap of faith or thought." So what actions will we take? What actions do we expect from our leadership and clergy? And what actions do we expect from ourselves?

We will define this action agenda together. Over my years on the board, many people have expressed to me the issues of greatest concern to them. I hope in my time as president you will continue to do the same.

My predecessor Richard Levine introduced a wonderful practice of highlighting a noteworthy congregant each month. I would like to extend this by writing a regular doogmah eesheet column that will include inspiring stories shared by temple members. Therefore, I ask you to share with me a story of someone you know who has set a meaningful example. And, don't be modest, that someone can be you.

On a final and personal note, I want to say that I have received more from TBS than I have ever given. A special thanks to Rabbi Lucas whose thought-provoking sermons, classes and personal examples have helped numerous others and me grow in many ways. I want to thank our cantor, whose voice makes our prayers reach another dimension, our committee chairpersons and volunteers, professional staff, our board of trustees and our officers for their dedication and hard work. At this point, I also want to welcome Rabbi Paul Kerbel and his wife Melissa to our TBS family. Rabbi Kerbel hit the ground running when he moved here in June. Thank you Rabbi for this display of initiative. You certainly set an inspiring personal example.

Leading this temple is both a challenge and an opportunity. I am ready to face the challenge because I have all of you – our members – supporting this effort. There is much good work to be done. As Rabbi Tarfon teaches in Pirkei Avot, "It is not incumbent upon you to finish the task, but neither are you free to neglect it." Yasher koach and thanks to all of you for stepping up in this effort.

My family and I wish you a Happy and Healthy New Year.

New Year - New Beginning

In a little more than two weeks we will all come together to pray, catch up and wish each other a good year on Rosh Hashanah. The Early Childhood, Religious School and High School students will soon be back in the classrooms, and the building will be filled with their songs, prayers and big smiles.

Our staff is busy cleaning and polishing and preparing the classrooms and other building areas. The roof has been replaced. Two new HVAC units have been installed.

We welcome Rabbi Paul Kerbel, our new Associate Rabbi, and his wife Melissa. Rabbi Kerbel has been at Temple Beth Sholom since the middle of July. Rabbi Kerbel has been busy meeting many of our members, staff and committees to get a real feel of what Temple Beth Sholom is about, where it came from and where it is going.

I look forward to seeing you on the High Holidays. I invite you to call or stop in to my office with any questions or concerns, to share your news or just to say hi.

Just a reminder. when you come to services, do not park your car on the access road of the Northern State Parkway. You may be ticketed or towed away by the state troopers, as it is dangerous for you and your families, and cars entering the parkway.

Wishing you and your family a happy and healthy new year.

FROM MBS

By Rabbi Sean Jensen and
Rabbi Paul David Kerbel
Co-MBS Directors

Shalom from Machon Beth Sholom! We had an amazing summer and we hope that you did too! We have an exciting new year ahead of us! A warm welcome to Rabbi Kerbel, our new Associate Rabbi, joining Rabbi Jensen as Co-director of MBS. Rabbi Kerbel is coming to us from Atlanta so we will have to help him survive his first NY winter!

We cannot wait to meet our new 8th graders! We are having a welcome orientation on Monday, September 21st from 6:45- 8:30 PM. All parents and students are invited and encouraged to attend. New students come meet the staff of MBS, the other students, and the new Youth Group Director. Returning students come hang out with Rabbi Jensen and Danielle and meet the new Associate Rabbi! We have lots of stories about our summer adventures. The three of us also want to hear your ideas for some topics we will discuss throughout the year and share some other ideas with you! Can't wait to see you all there and looking forward to another amazing year at MBS.

PTA UPDATE

The PTA is excited about the start of the new school year, starting in September.

Because of our late Labor Day and early High Holidays, our first event will be a combined welcome back breakfast and Sukkah Decorating on September 20 after drop off. Everyone in the congregation and in both ECC and the Religious School is invited to join in the fun! We will start the morning with breakfast and a meet and greet and then move right into the decorating of the sukkah, an annual exciting events. Our students are invited to join us when their class is concluded.

We will be selling kids stuff books again this year. This is a fabulous coupon book with coupons to all major stores and restaurants. The cost is $25 but if you use just a few coupons, you will more than make your money back.

Our ongoing gift card fundraiser continues as well. Everyone needs to buy groceries and go to the gas station. Why not purchase a gift card and feel good that some money is going back to our school. We offer gift cards in small denominations to stores like Toys R Us, Barnes and Noble, Target and Walmart. These are great for birthday gifts when you just don't know what to get or don't have any extra time to run to the store.

All proceeds from our fundraisers go to augment the hebrew school experience for our students with numerous special events.

We look forward to seeing everyone in the sukkah, September 20th.

THE JOSHUA SOCIETY

Our synagogue has a wonderful track record of raising funds for many projects over the years such as building the Early Childhood Center, Mitzvah 613 and a variety of other initiatives. When it comes time to stepping up to the plate, TBS congregants are generous and show high regard for their synagogue as a center of Jewish life on Long Island.

The last eight years have been challenging for many synagogues and other Jewish organizations. They have revealed the need for steady, annual income streams in order to avoid deep cuts during hard times and to keep their precious institutions financially viable and sustainable.

After much deliberation and planning, our leadership came together and developed a plan to secure the financial future of Temple Beth Shalom. In recognition of our responsibility to the future of our synagogue and to future generations, we established the Joshua society, an annual fundraising campaign that will bring in consistent, unrestricted revenue that will support operations and hopefully ensure financial stability for years to come.

In the pilot year of the Joshua Society, 2015, we raised over $125,000 from generous members. For the kickoff of this program we started with a small group, predominantly Board of Trustees and Joshua Society Committee members. Just about 100% of this group participated. During the coming year, we plan to expand the Joshua Society and hope to grow the revenue stream even more. TBS is one of 1.5 million nonprofit organizations in the U.S.; every single one of them has to raise funds annually, and we are no exception!

Why Joshua?

Although Moses is credited with inspired leadership of the Jewish people, Joshua went steps further and he was chosen to bring the Jewish people into the land of Israel. Joshua got the job done, in modern terms you would call him, "the closer."

At Temple Beth Shalom, we need to be inspired but we also need to be proactive when required. We hope you will be inspired to become a contributor to The Joshua Society and that you will take action and give!

Please feel free to contact Susan Zelman at susan.zelman@gmail.com or Donna Bartolomeo at 621-2288 ext. 113 with your questions. They will be able to set up a meeting with a committee member.

We are looking forward to having many conversations over the next few months and to another successful year of The Joshua Society.

TEMPLE BETH SHOLOM HAS A LONG, RICH HISTORY OF SERVING THE JEWISH COMMUNITY OF ROSLYN.

Since 1951, we have provided a wide tent-a-nurturing spiritual home in which Jews are welcome in good times and in times of need. We are known for inspirational worship, celebration of life cycle events, creative Jewish education, exceptional clergy and leadership. We offer three outstanding religious schools, as well as cutting edge adult education programs, and unequalled family learning programs.

TBS is a proud, generous, caring Jewish community. Members are frequently moved to demonstrate their support of our goals, both as volunteers and with financial donations. We appreciate their gifts of time and money: they are all gifts from the heart.

OUR “WISH LIST.”

This year TBS has identified a “Wish List” to guide all of those who are inspired to donate financially!

1. New air conditioning unit (large) $75,000
2. New Sukkah in the Courtyard $50,000
3. Handicapped Accessible entrance on Roslyn Road $30,000
4. Lower Level Multi-purpose Room $25,000
5. Renovate Religious School Bathrooms (2) $25,000 each
6. New air conditioning unit (small) $25,000

BARNET & ANNETTE OSTROW EARLY CHILDHOOD CENTER

By Helayne Cohen, Early Childhood Center Director

The last of the campers have exited the building and the smell of Coppertone is slowly dissipating. The bulletin boards are designed with images of a new school year and we are all very excited about the beginning of school. The staff and I have been meeting to plan an enriching, stimulating and fun year where our children will learn much about their Jewish heritage (starting with Rosh Hashanah) and so much more! This is going to be a wonderful school year!

We are looking forward to welcoming our many new families and to including them in our special activities throughout the year such as celebrating Sukkot in "Pizza in the Hut", our Chanukah Hero Party, our Shema PJ party and our family seder, to name a few.

Within a short period of time, our children will be comfortable with the routine of coming to school. And, in no time, will regard their teachers as their inspiring, supportive and nurturing role models and extended family. We are looking forward to weekly enrichments such as yoga, our Tuesday science class, music with Miss Jaime, Hebrew with Morah Sharon and Shabbat with our rabbis. And there's nothing better than the smell of freshly baked challah that we will be making monthly here at the ECC.

Stay & Play - Petting Zoo

And, saving the best for last - the Early Childhood Center came in # 1 for the "Best of the North Shore" contest that was facilitated by North Shore Media. NUMBER 1 - we are so very proud of this honor and recognition!!!

My family and I and our ECC family extend sweet wishes to all for a happy and healthy new year.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

By Sharon Solomon, Religious School Director

Welcome back to all our new and returning students and families. This year promises to be full of exciting opportunities and our Religious School staff is enthusiastic and ready for another year of interactive and engaging learning experiences.

The first day of TBS Religious School classes is Tuesday, September 8th for Bet/Second through Hay/Fifth grade. Our Vav/Sixth graders begin on Tuesday, September 10th and our Zayin/Seventh graders begin on Sunday, September 20th.

Be sure to stop by the Welcome Back PTA Breakfast on Sunday, September 20th from 9:15 am to 9:45 pm sponsored by the PTA (followed by the first PTA meeting of the year.) Co-Presidents Debbie Dubowsky and Lisa Berger invite you to mingle with other parents and hear about the wonderful upcoming activities.

TBS is excited to announce that we will be incorporating technology into the Religious School. We are grateful to two families who sponsored laptops that will be utilized with our Gimel, Daled and Hay classes when studying Hebrew, Tefillah and Israel.

It is with great pride that we will have a "Shinshin", an Israeli Educational Shaliach working with our school this year. Our grades three through seven (Gimel – Zayin) will explore Hebrew and the land, culture and people of Israel through the eyes of this special Israeli-born visitor.

This year we will be continuing our Mitzvah of the Month which will focus on the Long Island local community. "Children Helping Children" will be our first project where we will be sponsoring the HASC School of Five Towns (a special needs school). Our older students will begin the year by planting a garden and also helping the HASC School run their Fall Carnival. In addition, TBS will working with an organization called The Lend A Hand Project where we will sponsor two families living below the poverty line right here on Long Island. We are grateful to Tammy Fisher (VP, Education & Chesed) and Pam Cott (TBS Chesed Chairperson) as well as Ellen Walk (VP, Membership) who inspire the Religious School to assist individuals and families within our own TBS community. Making meals for bereaved families and aiding those in need are just some of the ways we support one another. It is our motto to continue to provide worthwhile mitzvot/chesed charity opportunities to engage our children and families. If you wish to sponsor a charity event or help coordinate a program please contact me. Please share informative and worthwhile programs that you are aware of. We can always do more, when it comes to acts of loving kindness.

A recent article, by David Brooks in the New York Times, (which was mentioned to me by my colleague, Debbye Brandell) describes the moral bucket list of a person who radiates goodness. This message eloquently encompasses the Jewish values that TBS Religious School embodies.

Below are some key Jewish values that we at the religious school strive to promote. Living Jewishly and living fulfilled lives are an essential component that we try to instill.

Avahah/Love - It serves as the basis for most of the commandments in Judaism. The covenant between each of us and God is described as a relationship between two people who love each other.

B'tzelem Elohim/Created in God's Image - This reminds us that there is holiness in each of us.

Bal Tash-chit/Do not Destroy - As caretakers of a world that God has lent us, it is our responsibility to make wise use of it. Recycling, conserving energy, and caring for the environment are important ways we live this commandment.

Chesed/Kindness - Jewish tradition teaches us to be kind throughout our lives.

Chochma/Wisdom - The Rabbis teach "Who is wise? One who learns from all people." Our students learn the implications of one's words and deeds, and the role they play in leading a moral Jewish life.

Derech Eretz/Good Manners - Translated literally, it means "the way of the land." Decent behavior must be the basis of how we act.

Hazan et HaKol/Feeding Everyone - In the first prayer of the Birkat HaMazon, the Grace After Meals, we praise God for nourishing the entire world with both mercy and compassion.

Zeman/Jewish Time - The daily rhythm of blessings, the weekly cycle of work and Shabbat, the yearly cycle of holidays, the Jewish life cycle, all guide our lives Jewishly. When we live our life according to Jewish time, it becomes richer, invested in community, and more connected to God.

Kavod/Respect - Positive and productive human relations are based on being respectful to one another.

Kehillah/Community - This provides a context for many aspects of Jewish life including holiday celebrations, life cycle events, and prayer. Each Jewish person is necessary to the Jewish community to support each other and to keep our institutions strong. Our students are building Jewish community as members of our religious school. We want our young people to live life according to these Jewish values and help make the world a better place. There is much to be learned about life in our religious school.

We know that values such as chesed and charity are a home-school community partnership. We can't just talk about giving of oneself and time. We create opportunities that will inspire and transform a student. Developing character, promoting empathy, generosity and concern for others are at the core of what Jewish values are all about. We afford our students interactions to cultivate care for one's family, community and Israel. Character building, compassion and obligation to family and community through the lens of Torah are our core emphasis so that our students will be in partnership in building a better world.

I look forward to welcoming all the students and families. I extend a Shana Tova and a wonderful happy and healthy new year to all.

SISTERHOOD SCOOP

By Cindy Feldman, President

Reaching Greater Heights with Our New Year of Programs and Classes!

So far my summer has been filled with “summits.” I climbed mountain “summits” in Portland, Oregon (Oy, Moses must have been in good shape!); held a “summit” of your Executive Board at my home with a lively exchange of ideas for an exciting year of learning together; and attended a Women’s League “summit” for leadership training. Looking back at the Spring Dinner and Installation, I could never have anticipated then all the wonderful ideas and relationships that are now underway.

Your Sisterhood Executive Board has already planned most of the year, and it is only the beginning of August! Susie Fishbein, author of the cookbook series, Kosher by Design, will be at TBS for a Passover cooking demonstration and tasting. Remember the challah baking that enriched our Shabbat experience a few years ago? Mahvash Zarabi is bringing it to TBS again and it is not to be missed this fall! Talia Carner, author of Jerusalem Maiden, will be speaking to us about her latest book, Hotel Moscow, at the end of October. Looking ahead to spring, The JCC is partnering with us to bring actor Alan Alda’s wife, Arlene Alda, to discuss her new book, Just Kids From the Bronx, Telling it the Way Was: An Oral History.

Featuring New Classes!

We are offering Evening Yoga on Monday nights for all levels of fitness; a workshop with our own Shiela Bartell to Make Your Own Tallit; an evening class to learn to read and write Hebrew with Cantor Ofer Barnoy, which is perfect for those who never learned or for those who want to refresh or improve their skills; we are bringing back the popular Zeigler Institute Walking With Judaism series, which addresses recurrent themes in our Torah and texts such as the importance of justice, with Rabbi Paul Kerbel leading the way; and we are thinking about new and creative chesed initiatives that will inspire you.

Our Florence Meyer Adult Education program begins on Tuesday morning, October 13th and includes a new course in Essential Hebrew for Travelers as well as our traditional Bible Study and Intermediate Conversational Hebrew with our esteemed morah, teacher Zahavah Rosenfeld. Please sign-up by returning the registration form in our new Adult Learning brochure with your payment.

Here are a few events and dates to keep in mind this month:

Current Events/Discussion Group with Wende Jager-Hyman: Wednesday, September 17, at 10:30 AM

Senior Community Luncheon, no charge, Wednesday, September 30, at 11:30 AM

Sisterhood & Men’s Club Sukkah Party, Thursday, October 1, at 8 PM

Sisterhood Evening Book Club with Molly Chernofsky, Thursday, October 8, at 8 PM

All-New Rosh Chodesh Program, Tuesday, October 13, at 6:30 PM Facilitators: Sharon Solomon, Molly Chernofsky, Roya Mizrahi and Phyllis Pellman

These are just a few of the highlights to whet your appetite for more! I’d like to remind everyone as the New Year approaches to please sign-up or renew your Sisterhood/Zahavah membership for the 2015-2016 year. It’s a great value with many benefits. Our membership brochure, which includes a sign-up form, is available on the TBS website under the Community/Sisterhood tab or at the Temple main office. It was also mailed to you over the summer. Thank you to everyone who has already joined.

Our first OPEN Sisterhood Meeting will be September 17th at 8:00 PM. My hope is to welcome new and returning members; to inspire your intellectual curiosity; to build relationships; and to support you along your personal Jewish journey!

L’Shanah Tovah to you and your families.

All the best,

Cindy

Festive Reception

MEN'S CLUB CORNER

By Michael Mand, President

"Never Say Never Again". That was the title of the James Bond film remake of 'Thunderball' in 1983. It marked the return of Sean Connery as James Bond, who, after the release of 'Diamonds Are Forever' in 1971, vowed NEVER to play that role again. After completing my year as president of our Men's Club from 2010 to 2011, a particular difficult year, I made that very same pledge. Yet here I am back for a second chance; and I'm looking forward to it. I must thank our immediate past president, Steve Goldenberg, for giving me the opportunity to return. I must, so I will. Thank you, Steve.

Men's Club took a giant leap in the right direction under Steve's leadership and I hope to continue that progress. He was able to attract many new, younger congregants to participate and become important active members. And he added many activities, such as the walking tour of the Lower East Side, to our annual list of events. Temple leadership recognized his accomplishments as Men's Club president; so much so, that he has been promoted to Vice President in charge of Programming. This past July, Men's Club honored Steve with a dinner at Ben's Deli in the Wheatley Plaza (which, by the way, is not in Wheatley). It was well-deserved.

In my State-of-the-Men's Club Address at the dinner I was happy to report that the state of the Men's Club is quite good. At the end of last year we held our End-of-the-Year Barbeque/Texas Hold-'em event, which has become a favorite. It was well attended and Yoram Solomon was our top winner – I had to leave before the conclusion of the festivities. As for upcoming events, the High Holidays take up much of September, so our Planning Meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday, September 30. Men's Club members have been invited to join Sisterhood for its event in the Sukkah on Thursday, October 1. And, on Thursday, October 15, we are sponsoring a screening of the movie 'Above and Beyond', about Jewish-American pilots who fought secretly for the Israel during the war of independence in 1948. We want to share this with the entire community so attendance is not limited to Men's Club members. We have Past-President Maurice Klein to thank for bringing this movie to TBS.

I want to take this opportunity to welcome my counterpart, Cindy Feldman, Sisterhood President, and pledge to work with her to add some joint events to our schedule.

If I haven't already convinced you that our annual membership dues of $100.00 is a bargain, here are some new ideas I'm working on for the next ten months: a touch football game in the fall, karaoke night and bowling. But I'm open to suggestions as well. If you have any, drop me a line at mjmand@i-2000.com.

I look forward to a great year and want to wish everyone a Shanah Tovah!

Michael

VP PROGRAMMING

By Steven Goldenberg

5 776 is a noteworthy year for Temple Beth Sholom, as we commemorate and celebrate 65 years as a congregation. We will contemplate who we are, what we are, where we came from, and where we are headed.

There will be a kick-off event on October 1, hosted by Men's Club & Sisterhood. We will review the documentary created for our 50th birthday, featuring some of the founders (and second generation) of our beloved TBS, and share stories of our humble beginnings and their vision.

The year will culminate in the not-to-be-missed Gala on Sunday, May 22. Not only will we celebrate our 65 years on that day, but we will also celebrate other "65 landmarks", such as Rabbi Lucas' 65th Birthday and the 65th Anniversary of two of our Past Presidents, the Schlesingers and the Kliegman. Certainly, if you know of any "65" noteworthy events that occur during 5776, please let me know (Stevenpgol@aol.com) so we can make this a truly wonderful celebration of good fortune for so many!

Of course, many other events are planned throughout the year with broad-based appeal. As the Immediate Past President of Men's Club, I look forward to working closely with Michael Mand (serving an encore term as Men's Club President) and Cindy Feldman (Sisterhood President). I encourage you to join with these synagogue arms to participate in some spectacular events.

A mini-film series is planned: "Above and Beyond," a documentary of the beginnings of the Israeli Air Force, on Thursday, October 15; "Deli Man," the story of the rise (and unfortunate demise) of Kosher delis, on Sunday, November 15, with one of the producers, Jay Parker of Ben's Best; and "Streit's Matzo and the American Dream", with Aron Yagoda, on Sunday, April 17. More details to follow.

Other dates for your calendar include our annual Comedy Night (Saturday, December 5), Persian Experience (Sunday, March 6), Brooklyn Bus Tour (Sunday, April 3), and a Model Seder with ample scotch tasting and tips from the clergy on making your Seder the best that it can be on Thursday, April 7.

I look forward to serving on the Executive Board as VP Programming this year, and coordinating so many exciting events for all. Wishing you all L'Shanah Tovah!

INCREDIBLE ISRAEL

By Molly Chernofsky

A team of Tel Aviv University and Harvard Medical School researchers says it has devised a non-invasive technique that harnesses pulsed electric fields to generate new skin tissue growth. This is great news for the treatment of degenerative skin diseases and for those looking for scarless skin rejuvenation. Clinical trials will start soon.

On a less aesthetic note, an Israeli company has figured out how to make our organic garbage, such as remnants from dinner, into energy that can be used to cook meals or as liquid fertilizers for gardens and vegetable crops. The new machine is called a bio-digester and the system does not even generate foul odors.

CEO of Votiro, Itay Glick is a cyber-security expert. Harmless sounding emails that are really threats are sent to Votiro's router and sanitized so they can then be sent back to the organization. The two year old Israeli cyber company IronScales teaches users how to spot a fake email that is infected with malware through a tutorial. The process is simple, yet effective.

TORAH FUND

By Lisa G. Schlesinger

The Women's League and Torah Fund theme for 5776 (2015-2016) is NAT'AH KAREM: SHE PLANTS A VINEYARD (by her own labors). The Eishat Chayil poem in chapter 31 of the Book of Proverbs paints an idealized portrait of a woman of piety, determination, creativity, and industry. The phrase "nat'ah karem" (31:16b) reflects the industrious woman, one who organizes and carries out a plan- in this case, the planting of a vineyard- a meaningful and productive activity that benefits not just her, but future generations as well. Our beautiful pin which you can see above is a bunch of luscious grapes.

During the year Torah Fund and WLCJ will focus on several significant Jewish women of accomplishment, women whose work has benefited not just the present, but the future. The women will represent different areas, from science and education to politics and the arts. The first will be Golda Meir, one of the most significant builders and leaders of the state of Israel.

Happy New Year to all of the Temple Beth Sholom families who I look forward to seeing in shul!!!

We know what it takes to make a strong
Jewish community.
Doing our job well is just the beginning.

We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve the community in times of growth and happiness as well as times of grief. It's not surprising we've served the Jewish community for over 100 years. How we've served is the surprising part. David Rubin and his entire staff work tirelessly in serving the Jewish community, but then, that's part of our philosophy and tradition.

We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve and give back to the community.

Thank You:

Zahava Rosenfeld would like to thank Sisterhood for the opportunity to instruct Sisterhood Adult Classes and for all who attend these classes. Thank you so much for your gift and I am looking forward to the continuation of our studies.

I want to thank Rabbi Lucas and Cantor Barnoy for the many hospital visits they made to Marvin during this past difficult year. I also want to thank Rabbi Lucas for his compassionate and memorable eulogy that he made at Marvin's funeral.

I'd also like to personally thank Ellen Walk and the Chesed committee for the many Shabbat meals & Shiva meal that were delivered to us.

To the friends who attended Marvin's funeral, made Shiva calls and sent donations in his memory, I say "Thank You." You are truly a wonderful, caring congregation.

Fondly,

Harriet Rosen, Stacey Silverman, Fred Rosen

To the Israel 2015 Gang,

Just wanted to say thank you to all of the "Guardian Angels" who took care of Ken & me while we were in Israel. We started out as Temple members and I am so proud to be able to say I have so many new friends. Love to you all - you know who you are.
