FROM THE RABBI'S DESK

by Rabbi Alan B. Lucas

Coming to shul with an open mind... and an open heart

Soon our sanctuary will be filled to overflowing in celebration of the High Holy Days. The fact that so many Jews feel the need to be together, in shul, is one of the most remarkable aspects of these very remarkable days.

Shul is one of the last remaining bastions of true community in America today. Shul, on the High Holy Days is a wonderful tapestry of remarkably different people. Yes, most will be Jewish, or at least Jew-ish. But beyond that the variation is astounding. In shul, on the High Holy Days you will find people who have very different interests, politics, professions, gender identifications and sexual orientations. Single Jews, married Jews, young Jews and old Jews. There will be observant Jews and those not so committed Jews, religious Jews and cultural Jews; spiritual Jews and secular Jews; Jews who like music in shul and those who don't; Loud davening, soft davening and non-davening Jews; Jews who used to not be Jews and Jews who are not so sure they want to be Jews; pro-Israel Jews, pro-Israel but struggling with her politics Jews and anti-Israel Jews; Jews who love being in shul on the High Holy Days and Jews who aren't so enamored by idea but are here nonetheless.

I imagine you can add to this list (I hope you will share your additions with me) as the possibilities are endless and that is precisely my point. What a wonderful place shul is on the Yamim Noraim.

And despite this incredible diversity, you will find us all sitting side by side, identifying joyously or reluctantly with Jews who sit in synagogues like ours all across the world and down through the generations. There will be no fights and no arguments – and I think this is remarkable. Hiney Ma Tov U'ma naim shevet ahim gam yahad – “How wonderful, people sitting together!”

Unfortunately this is not the way we have gotten used to behaving in so many other places.

I am watching a televised town hall meeting where a congressman is meeting with his local constituents to discuss the merits of health reform. But what I see is not a conversation, not even a debate but a shouting match. And there is a small but significant contingent of protestors that had come not to discuss but to disrupt. Every time the congressman tried to speak and explain his views they shouted him down with ironic chants of, “this is America!” Ironic, I say, because this is America and I thought that the freedom to share one's views was a hallmark of what this great country was about. Civil discourse has become more difficult than ever.

In 1978, neo-Nazi's sought the right to march in Skokie, Illinois, a town that was chosen because of its high density of Holocaust survivors. Many of us, including Alan Dershowitz who defended them, felt that as obnoxious as their message was, they had a right to free speech – as did we, so we responded with a counter march and arguments of our own.

Forty Years later, Charlottesville is a different kind of symbol – when neo-Nazi's sought to march there it was not a demand for free speech but a symbol of intimidation and incitement to violence that has become the hallmark of our age.

On college campuses young people seek to curtail free speech if what you say is perceived to be offensive to their ear.

Israel is also struggling with the limits of democracy as it seeks to balance its desire to be a Jewish homeland with ideas and constituencies it deems a threat. The question used to be (as it was back in the days of Skokie) how tolerant can we be? How much tolerance can we bear before we draw the line and define someone or some idea as a threat? Today the question seems to be, how intolerant can we be? How fast can we draw someone outside the bounds of the acceptable?

On college campuses, pro-Israel speakers are disinvited or shouted down if they manage to find a forum. In Israel, liberal writers like Peter Beinhardt are detained for questioning upon entry and perceived to be a potential threat and Conservative rabbi Dov Haiyun is arrested for performing a Jewish wedding because he is not Orthodox. Intolerance has become the spirit of our times.

So, that is why coming to shul and sitting with people you may not like, may not agree with, who behave in ways you may not approve - is more important than ever and even a bit counter-cultural.

Pluralism is based on a fundamental belief that no one group owns the exclusive rights to THE truth. I believe that I am right and that you are wrong. But, in a pluralistic society I understand that you believe that you are right and that I am wrong - and learning how to live with that gap is the key to a civil society.

Some make the argument that democracy is not a Jewish concept. But as far back as the early rabbinic tradition, the great rabbis Hillel and Shammai, who lived almost 2000 years ago, disagreed with each other throughout the pages of the Talmud. Their disagreements were so significant that at times they could have lead to very different understandings of Jewish identity but they insisted that their children could marry one another despite their deep differences.

What a wonderful lesson for our day – to acknowledge that no matter how much you think that truth is on your side, you pause to recognize the value of the other and that other also believes fervently in the rightness of their cause.

It is easy to live with those who are like you. Learning how to live with the “other” may well be the most critical challenge of our time. Two thousand years ago, Hillel and Shammai learned how to live meaningfully and productively in a world of passionate disagreement – can we?

I hope to see you in shul.

CANTOR'S NOTES

by Cantor Ofer Barnoy

Israel - A Modern Day Miracle

Having just completed another three week stay in Israel, I can't help but reflect on the miracle that Israel is and the miraculous historical events that created it and continue to sustain it.

In between visiting many family members and attending weddings and other family occasions, Marsha and I had an opportunity to travel throughout Israel to places that retell the history of what Israel has gone through to survive and thrive. We visited the Golan Heights with my brother as an expert tour guide – he is so only because he served as a colonel in the IDF during a number of campaigns including the battles in Lebanon in the 1980's so he is all too familiar with the reason why the Golan Heights is dotted with a number of monuments to honor fallen soldiers but also to tell their stories of heroism under fire.

One such hero is Avigdor Kahalani who in the 1973 Yom Kippur War fought off an armored Syrian battalion with only one tank!!! Every tank around him was blown up and he was able to utilize ingenuity and the fact that he was perched high on a hill to direct his shells in such a way that the Syrians thought a large tank brigade was heading towards them from the hilltop. They retreated and therefore the Golan Heights are now in our hands. When the monument to his heroism was erected, he insisted that it include his tank alongside a Syrian tank, placed in a peace-time formation where the long gun barrels are perpendicular to each other. When asked why, he answered that we must respect our enemies and hope that one day they will learn to respect us. Only then, can we achieve peace.

Another amazing vantage point was the hill of Ben-Tal where you can stand and overlook the entire Israeli side of Kunaitra and then on into the Syrian side all the way to the southern edge of Damascus, which is only 30 miles away. While we were staring at Damascus from afar we heard two loud booms and witnessed the smoke billowing from what obviously was shelling by the Syrian army as they try to recapture areas still held by ISIS terrorists. It only clarifies why Israel can never afford to give up the Golan Heights. It is an important buffer in a fight for existential survival and if not for those hilltops Israel's edge in defending itself would be gone. The hilltop we were standing on is an active army base riddled with bunkers and tunnels and even though during relative peace you can visit the site, if a war breaks out with either Syria, Lebanon or Hezbollah they will use it to defend the Golan Heights and the rest of Israel. My brother also pointed out to us the electronic surveillance equipment the IDF has perched on top of Mount Hermon which has cameras capable of seeing down to street level in Syria and Lebanon. If all this was returned we would literally become blind in a war.

Israel is also amazing in so many ways in spite of these war time stresses that continue to plague it. The numerous delicious restaurants that we ate at, the eclectic bars we drank at and the beautiful beaches we soaked up the sun on remind us that the Israel we are always shown in the news is far from the real Israel you see when you visit. Israelis are full of life and hope and while their children take up the task of defense during their 3-year service they remain firmly entrenched in building for the future as if peace is assured. You simply cannot visit any town in Israel right now without noticing a huge building boom. There are tall buildings going up everywhere and plans to increase living units by the thousands are approved daily at the Knesset. The landscape of Israel of 40 and 30 years ago is being transformed into a landscape of modern building design like the new buildings you may see in Manhattan or Miami and just as beautiful. They remind us that Israel is now a powerful and proud economy and a beacon of democracy much like its best friend, the USA.

As we approach the High Holidays, let us learn from our Israeli brothers and sisters to remember what is truly important. Let us not dwell too much on our dark history but rather commemorate the heroism of those who fought against oppression and tyranny. Yes, there are world-sized problems to overcome everywhere and one can get downright depressed by dwelling on these problems but our Israeli brethren constantly remind us to dwell on the solutions which can only inspire us to fight for a future filled with peace and prosperity for all of humankind.

Amen, Ken Yehi Ratzon – May it be so with God's help!

I wish you all a Shannah Tovah and a meaningful experience at temple these High Holidays.

FROM THE DESK OF RABBI URI ALLEN

by Rabbi Uri Allen

Dear Temple Beth Sholom,

What a summer it has been for the Allen family!

Our arrival and transition to TBS and to Roslyn has been as sweet and smooth as possible. That is in large part due to the kindness that you have shown me, Sari and our kids. Whether it was at Shabbat services, meals at your homes, invitations to outings and play-dates, running into you at the grocery store and at the park – all of these, and more, have made us feel very welcome and excited for our journey together.

TBS really has a family feel. I have experienced the feeling of comfort, of home, of caring and compassion too many times to count during the summer. Often when this happens, I find myself thinking about my own family. As I see reunions in the pews and in the parking lot, my mind is transported to those same interactions with my mother and father, sister and brother, grandparents and cousins. Being a congregational Rabbi sometimes comes at a cost to one's family. But I can honestly say that in the short time since our joining this community, you have become our family. We have shared happy times and sad times, Shabbat and holidays and regular weekdays, lots of food and of course, Torah.

It is in that spirit that I want to share an Allen family tradition with you, our new TBS family. It is a prayer for the New Year that we share with all of our hearts.

With blessings for a happy, healthy and sweat New Year,

Shanah Tovah U-Metukah

Uri, Sari, Doron, Aderet and Yedidyah

During the coming year

May you enjoy good health and happiness.

May peace reign over our country and throughout the world.

May you have a kiss from your beloved, a smile from a child, a warm cozy house with the aroma of good food baking in the oven.

May you have wise governors and merciful tax collectors, good friends and helpful neighbors.

May you enjoy the fruits of your labors, celebrate birthdays and anniversaries and may the sun shine on your face – but not too much.

May you see a rainbow.

May your team score a touchdown.

May the Sabbath Queen enter your home and enable you to follow the teachings of Torah with love.

May you enjoy peace of mind and may all your dreams be sweet ones.

May the world be a better place because you are in it.

And may you find delight in reading a good book, finding a bargain, doing a good deed, and giving tzedaka with an open hand.

Whenever it rains – as it will - may you have an umbrella.

And may we meet on the streets of Jerusalem in the year to come.

Shannah Tova Umetukah

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

by Rebecca Altman

Every year, people say that the Jewish holidays are so early or so late. Nobody ever seems to say that they are right on time. Well, I don't think I agree with this. I think the holidays fall right when they need to be. For many, the New Year marks a time of new beginnings. It is when one school year ends and the next begins. It is when summer is over and the crisp fall air is upon us. It is when we contemplate all that will be in the new year and hope for health, peace and safety for us, our family, our friends, our community, Israel and the world. We reflect on the past year and look forward to the new year.

We are lucky to have such a warm, caring and inclusive congregation here at Temple Beth Sholom. Led by our amazing clergy, Rabbi Alan B. Lucas, Cantor Barnoy and Rabbi Uri Allen, we can pray and worship together.

On Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, over a thousand people fill our sanctuaries. Preparing for these people is no easy task. Preparations begin in May and continue through the holidays. I want to thank some of the people who make it all possible. First, we could never thank Donna Bartolomeo and the office staff enough. They prepare and organize all of the services and communication with the congregation. They print and send out the tickets and honors, put together the book of remembrance, and coordinate all that is happening.

Thank you to Barry Epstein and his high holiday committee. They finalize the format of the services and assign the haftorot, daveners and shofar blowers. Thank you to our amazing haftorah readers this year; David Pollack, Lewis Bartell, Beth Ostrow, Madeline Yousefzadeh, Morty Schaja, Debbie Dubowsky and Michael Schor. They make it look so easy! To John Canova, thank you for finding and coordinating all of the ushers. The usher and greeter training on August 30 was so helpful. To Susan Lipper who runs our greeter program on the holidays and on each Shabbat. Thank you for finding people to greet our congregants with a warm smile and a friendly hello. Please volunteer to greet on a Shabbat morning.

A special todah rabbah to John Navi who cleans our tallisim so they are crisp and fresh for the new year and to Deborah Brosowsky and her group of volunteers who clean and shine all of the silver Torah ornaments. David Wasserman has the monumental task of assigning honors and alliyot. Thank you, David. Thank you to Sandy Berger who is the Chazan Sheini in the Sandler Chapel. We are thrilled to be celebrating his 10th year with him. Thank you to all of the congregants who help to lead the services in the Chapel.

Thank you to Steve Zeldis and all who man the honors desk in the sanctuary.

Our high holiday services are enhanced by the Israeli Men's Choir. Thank you to Beth and Ron Ostrow and Shoshanna Wingate for making this possible every year.

We offer an array of children's and family services. These interactive and engaging services are for children of all ages. Thank you to Sharon Solomon and Suzy Freier for always seeing to every detail to make sure that these services go off without a hitch. We also have baby sitting available for our youngest members. Our pre and post Bar/Bat mitzvah students will be called up to the Torah for a special blessing by Rabbi Lucas. If you wish to take a break from praying, please visit one of our exciting educational classes in the Ohel.

When Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur end, we go right into Sukkot. Please look out for information about our Sukkot services and events including, Pizza in the Hut for our ECC, Men's Club and Sisterhood in the Sukkah, and Spirits in the Sukkah. Our religious school families will be decorating the Sukkah on Sunday September 23. Sukkot concludes with Simchat Torah. Please join me as we honor 3 esteemed members- Jess Drabkin, Steve Goldenberg and Jared Friedman. We thank them for their commitment to Temple Beth Sholom.

Wishing you a happy, healthy and sweet new year!

Rebecca

September - Welcome and Welcome Back

As the camp summer program comes to an end, I look towards the High Holy Days, school and the many programs TBS has to offer in the upcoming year. The month of September always feels like a welcome and welcome back month. We say welcome to our new members and our new students and welcome back to our members and students who were with us last year.

This year, we have a special welcome to Rabbi Uri and Sari Allen and their three children. Even though he has been with us only for a few months, his presence has been felt with a smile and thought provoking conversation.

The new year is just days away and the office staff and I are here to help with any of your needs. Please call the office with any questions, comments or concerns.

Wishing you and your families a happy sweet new year!

Welcome to Makom! This is the place to be for teen engagement at Temple Beth Shalom. The word makom in Hebrew means place. It can refer to a physical place, a spiritual place, or even to the idea of God in our lives.

At Makom we are dedicated to providing opportunities for compelling and relevant Jewish experiences and learning. Students will cultivate and nurture their relationships with the sources of our tradition, TBS clergy and educators, each other, and the greater community, allowing Jewish values and thinking to inform meaningful Jewish choices.

In other words, Makom is where you can find and express your place in the Jewish landscape and in the broader world.

Focus...Inward, Outward

With the New Year upon us we are called to reflect inward, and evaluate our deeds, discretions, and achievements. We are also called to reevaluate, refocus and look outward with a kinder eye and a loving heart.

This exhibition brings together an immense collection of historic cameras, spanning 150 years, on loan from a members' private collection; a photo exhibit by Lisa Mintz, titled Tiferet: as well as New Year's Judiaca from the TBS Museum collection.

Kavanah, July 2016
Women's Side of the Wall

Tiferet: Beautiful Images from the Land of Israel will be displayed at Temple Beth Sholom this Fall. It is a beautiful tapestry of photographs that gives the viewer a glimpse of the magnificence and abundant beauty of the landscape, architecture, flora, fauna, art and people of the land of Israel.

The fifty-photo exhibit captures the breathtaking beauty of the land of Israel, inspiring you to feel as uplifted as if you had actually been there!

BARNET & ANNETTE OSTROW EARLY CHILDHOOD CENTER

by Suzy Freier, Early Childhood Center Director

I want to extend a warm welcome to the Early Childhood Center families! We are eager for the school year to begin and look forward to seeing all of the children and parents when the doors open in September.

Once again, we have a wonderful team of dedicated teachers and staff. Our newest addition, Ms. Jamie Bunsis, will be joining the Early Childhood Center as one of our toddler teachers. We know she will fit right in with our group of educated and innovative teachers. We have designed our curriculum to stimulate the children to become independent and self-confident learners. We want our little ones to be the best they can be.

September is a month of making new friends while getting adjusted to new teachers and routines. There are so many exciting things that happen each week at school with Shabbat and Havdalah being some of the highlights. The children look forward to spending time with the Rabbis and Cantor. Not only do the children learn in the classroom setting but they participate in weekly music, boppercise, computer and science classes.

The Parents Association has some great events planned. We are fortunate to have a wonderful group of parents who are so giving of their time. Please volunteer and become involved! Your participation is greatly appreciated.

It is time to say goodbye to summer, and hello to the 2018/2019 school year. Let the fun and learning begin!!!

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

by Sharon Solomon, Religious School Director

TBS Religious School begins on Sunday, September 16th for all students in grades Kindergarten through Seventh grade. Be sure to stop by the Welcome Back PTA Breakfast on Sunday, September 16th from 9:15 to 9:45 am in the Mercaz, sponsored by the PTA. PTA Co-Presidents, Lisa Berger & Marcy Sonoda invite you to mingle with other parents and hear about the wonderful upcoming activities. PTA is instrumental in enhancing programming for the school and I encourage you to become involved and make a difference in the lives of the children.

This year we will continue to emphasize Project Based Learning as an integral component the religious school curriculum. Our focus is to create learning and doing in order to engage the students into deeper learning. Project Based Learning does not look at one lesson at a time. Units are integrated to incorporate all the facets of learning holistically.

This method of education reinforces the student's voice and curiosity. Students are directed by the educator to become the expert and challenge themselves and learn to ask their own questions. Project Based Learning features real world context so even when learning Torah or Jewish History, students learn how to apply the learned information to their own lives. A student's voice is at the core of Project Based Learning. Their own concerns, interests and issues are applied to what is happening in the world around them.

We want Judaism to be a part of their everyday life; not only when they enter our building, but also to see their life through a Jewish lens. What is the most exciting part of PBL is that each grade focused on amazing final research projects that encompass different styles of learning. An amazing example is how we teach Torah in our third grade Gimel class where the entire class creates the Book of Genesis through a hands-on team mural project made by the children.

We are so fortunate that every grade has incredible projects that help the students tell their Jewish stories through their studies.

It is our hope that each and every family will experience Jewish living with us in the many opportunities that TBS has to offer. We look forward to greeting each and every family at our Children's High Holiday Services. We are extremely fortunate to have amazing leaders; Kim Brethel Weinberg for Mini Minyan, Michelle Friedman & Julie Gittlin for grades K, 1 and 2 and Rabbi Uri Allen and Joseph Soffer to inspire grades 3-7.

Please join us on Tuesday, September 25th for our Sukkot Family Study Shabbat from 4:00-6:00 pm. Regular classes are not officially scheduled on this date however we will have an amazing Sukkot Family Experience for you to participate in. Look for the flyer shortly.

Wishing all our families a Shana Tova. May the new year bring you and your family much happiness and health.

Sharon

OUR WISHLIST

This year TBS has identified a “Wish List” to guide all of those who are inspired to donate financially!

TEMPLE BETH SHOLOM HAS A LONG, RICH HISTORY OF SERVING THE JEWISH COMMUNITY OF ROSLYN.

Since 1951, we have provided a wide tent, a nurturing spiritual home in which Jews are welcome in good times and in times of need. We are known for inspirational worship, celebration of life cycle events, creative Jewish education, exceptional clergy and leadership. We offer three outstanding religious schools, as well as cutting edge adult education programs, and unequaled family learning programs.

TBS is a proud, generous, caring Jewish community. Members are frequently moved to demonstrate their support of our goals, both as volunteers and with financial donations. We appreciate their gifts of time and money: they are all gifts from the heart.

For more information, please call Donna Bartolomeo, Executive Director at 516-621-2288 or Morty Schaja, Vice President of Finance and Fundraising, fundraising@tbsroslyn.org.

DAY CAMP NEWS

by Holly Firestone, Camp Director &
Gayle Jukofsky, Assistant Camp Director

We're already missing the camp life here at BSDC! We had such a blast this summer watching our campers grow and play. From theme days to trips, special events, and everything in between there truly was no "regular" day at camp. Campers developed amazing swim skills, most ending up swimming in the deep end of the pool moving up not only in level but in confidence. Pedal Go-Karts was an exciting addition to camp! From 1st grade through the CIT's, everyone LOVED riding on our track! Our other new activity this summer, Computer Explorers STEM Lab added coding and robotics as a perfect complement to our already fan favorite, Science! Campers worked on programming robots, coding activities on the computer, and different Lego challenges. Also new this summer, we went to Bounce Trampoline Sports & Active Kidz for the first time, had David Funn come for both a magic workshop and show, and participated in celebrating Camp Kindness Day with camps all around the country! Teamwork and leadership skills were built at every activity along with friendships and memories that will last a lifetime!

We're already planning for BSDC Summer 2019 and hope to see YOU there! Now is the time to take advantage of our SUPER EARLY BIRD RATES for next summer! These will be the LOWEST rates of the year. Lock them in now for savings you won't see again! Don't forget, as returning campers if you refer a new camp family and they register you also will receive a $250 credit! Help us spread the word by registering today and sharing everything YOU love about BSDC with your family and friends! Holly and Gayle wish all of our campers, staff, camp parents and friends a successful and enjoyable school year! See you in 2019!

Holly & Gayle

TORAH FUND

by Janet Cohen Eder

This will be my third year as Torah Fund Chairperson from Temple Beth Shalom. Aside from being a very long-time member of TBS, I have been a Torah Fund donor for many years.

I am grateful for all our accomplishments in the last 2 years. Thanks to our generous donors, we raised lots of money for the participating schools that are supported by the Torah Fund which educate our future leaders of Conservative Judaism. Our Sisterhood was recognized by The Women's League Jewels of the Crown Award for our participation and contributions to Torah Fund.

Aside from supporting the Jewish Theological Seminary, Torah Fund supports Conservative Jewish education around the world. The theme of this year's Torah Fund campaign is ATID which means "future" in Hebrew. Women's League for Conservative Judaism is now in its 101st year, and the Torah Fund Campaign is beginning its 77th year. We look forward to a future together with all our Torah Fund supporters, our sisterhood members and you. Please help us to ensure the future of Conservative Jewish education throughout the world.

We are blessed in our synagogues to participate in prayer, education, fun, and acts of kindness that bring us together with our learned and thoughtful leaders, with our children and grandchildren who make us smile, and with the love of family and friends who are such a strong support to us. We are all hoping for a future that looks optimistic. Please help us to keep our future looking positive.

Membership has its Rewards

By Irving S. Chernofsky, Cemetery Committee Chairman

When you think of a membership benefit, you will rarely, if ever, think about the cemetery. But one of the lesser known benefits of membership at Temple Beth Sholom is exactly that. Temple Beth Sholom, as a service to its members, makes available plots at New Montefiore Cemetery, in an area reserved for Temple Beth Sholom. These plots are available at very reasonable prices. We recently surveyed Beth Moses Cemetery, Wellwood Cemetery and New Montefiore Cemetery. All of these cemeteries are located in Pinelawn, NY, less than a 30 minute drive from the Temple. We determined that the Temple is providing a significant discount, to its members, on the prices for plots in the Temple area. This discount is approximately 33% to 50% lower than the prices that the cemeteries currently sell plots for.

The Temple can provide members with either single or double plots, or family plots of four or more graves. The family plots have a single family monument that has the family name, and individual footstones for each interment. Each single plot can have an individual headstone, and each double plot can have either two single headstones or a double headstone, at the family's option. If you have any interest in purchasing plots in the Temple Beth Sholom area of New Montefiore Cemetery, please contact the Temple office.

In addition, Temple Beth Sholom in conjunction with New Montefiore Cemetery, now allows grave plantings. When an interment is made on our cemetery grounds and the family wishes to arrange for a planting, they will be allowed to plant Mature Yews (consisting of 3 shrubs 18"-24" wide) purchased from the cemetery. Families that wish to have grave plantings will be required to purchase "Perpetual Care" from the cemetery. These shrubs do wonders in improving the look of the gravesite. Grave plantings will also be allowed at the Temple Beth Sholom area of Beth Moses Cemetery. All families that have already had an interment at either cemetery and desire grave plantings should contact the cemetery to make the appropriate arrangements.

The Jewish way of life includes many Jewish life cycle events. During a typical Shabbat service at Temple Beth Sholom you can witness any of several of our Jewish life cycle events. You can witness the naming of a baby girl and her welcoming into the Jewish community; you can witness a bar or bat mitzvah, where our Jewish adolescents are transformed, right before our eyes, into Jewish adults; or you can witness an aufruf, where two of our Jewish adults prepare for life as a married couple.

Just as there is a Jewish way of life, there is also a Jewish way of death. Two basic considerations come into play when death strikes and the laws of death and mourning become applicable. One consideration involves the principle of kevod hamet, treatment of the deceased with reverence and respect. The other involves the principle of kevod hechai, concern for the welfare of the living. In respect for members of our congregation who have suffered a loss, Temple Beth Sholom allows the family to hold funeral services at the Temple.

Yes, membership has its rewards, and although we hope you will never need these membership benefits, it's nice to know that they are available to you if you do need them.

For more information, please contact Irving Chernofsky at 516-626-9025 or irving1@optonline.net or Temple Executive Director-Donna Bartolomeo at 516-621-2288 or dbartolomeo@tbsroslyn.org.

We know what it takes to make a strong Jewish community. Doing our job well is just the beginning.

We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve the community in times of growth and happiness as well as times of grief. It's not surprising we've served the Jewish community for over 100 years. How we've served is the surprising part. David Rubin and his entire staff work tirelessly in serving the Jewish community, but then, that's part of our philosophy and tradition.

We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve and give back to the community.
