WISHING YOU & YOURS
A SWEET NEW YEAR 5780!

FROM THE RABBI'S DESK

by Rabbi Alan B. Lucas

All I Got is Words...

This is the time of year when we begin to anticipate the coming of the High Holy Days. For most Jews, Elul, the month preceding Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, is supposed to be a time for reflection and soul searching. But in addition to the important soul work we are all called upon to do, rabbis must also prepare High Holy Day sermons. The challenge to create the right message and craft the most appropriate lesson remains daunting even for the most veteran pulpit rabbi. This task has become even more difficult in 2019 as our country has become so polarized and words have been weaponized both in the defense of various causes and also in an attempt to destroy and delegitimize the other, whoever the other may be. Everything we say these days is parsed and scrutinized for some hint as to whether this person is with me or against me, my friend or my enemy.

Once upon a time, not so very long ago, people frequently came up to me at the kiddush to say they disagreed with something I said during my sermon and then shared with me their point of disagreement and we both benefited from the conversation that ensued. Nowadays I am more likely to confront an angry tirade by someone who wants me to understand how those who hold views like mine are destroying the world and we both walk away the lesser for the exchange.

No matter how carefully the rabbi tries to choose his or her words; no matter how great the effort not to offend, it seems we have entered a moment where the congregant's ability to detect offense has far surpassed the rabbi's ability to avoid it (unless the rabbi's comments are so parve as to be meaningless and inconsequential). Some rabbis revel in the gladiator spirit that seems to dominate contemporary discourse. Some rabbis measure the success of their sermon by the number of people who were offended by it. Not I.

These rabbis do have a point. It was the job of the prophet to rage against the injustices of his day and similarly, the contemporary rabbi should be prepared to pick up this prophetic mantle and rage against the myriad of injustices of our day.

Rabbis wear many hats, and the prophetic one is the hat I have been least comfortable donning. I have over my long career, been much more comfortable with the priestly role of the healer and comforter of my people.

"But the times, they are a 'changin'..." and I am as interested as you are to hear what I have to say.

This entire article is my way of saying that as a rabbi, words are very important to me. As a Jew, words are very important to all of us and we need to choose our words carefully.

I am reminded of a poem that I have quoted in my Shabbat sermons. It is entitled, All I got was words... (I apologize that some of it is in Yiddish - but for those of you who do not know Yiddish I decided that rather than translate, this would be a wonderful opportunity to find someone who does and have a conversation - I assure you it will be one worth having.)

All I Got was Words...

When I was young and fancy free
My folks had no fine clothes for me.
All I got was words: gott tze danken, gott vet geben, zol men nor leben and zein gezundt.

When I was wont to travel far,
They didn't provide for me a car.
All I got was words: Gey gezundt
Fur Parmelech, hob a glickliche reizeh.

I wanted to increase my knowledge,
But they could not send me to college.
All I got was words: Hob sechel,
Zei nisht kein nahr, Toirah is de beste s'choirah.

The years have flown; the world has turned.
Things I have forgotten, things I have learned.
Yet I remember: Zug dem emes, gib tzedokah, hob rachmanos, ze a mentsch.
All I got was words.

Words are all we have. Let us choose them wisely. Let us use them wisely.

What Our Tradition Says About Gun Control

Today is August 7th and as I hang out with Marsha at JFK waiting to board our flight for another week of vacation abroad, I can't help but lament about all those people, their families and their communities left bereaved and suffering in the aftermath of the mass shootings in El Paso and in Dayton. We are unfortunately all too familiar with the scenes of carnage on TV and the vigils that follow these painful events that have ravaged our country and the rest of the world time and time again. I am fearful that copy-cats may force us to deal with yet another such tragedy even before you read this article in September. The ensuing rhetoric from our politicians and even our president is also too familiar as they seem unable or unwilling to make changes that will keep dangerous assault weapons out of the hands of people bent on hurting and killing innocent civilians. Amidst that sea of rhetoric, I finally heard a voice of reason when NY State Governor Cuomo was interviewed on a morning radio show this morning, and he spoke of New York State's law which he passed 6 years ago that closed some of the loopholes in NY by which one may purchase an assault rifle without an extensive background check that ultimately bans indicted criminals or people with a mental health record from purchasing such weapons. He was quick to note that he himself is a gun owner and that he supports every American's right to bear arms for protection, but that an assault rifle is just that – a weapon used to assault large crowds – and there is absolutely no conceivable reason for anyone not serving in the police or the military to own one. He urged our federal politicians to take example from the law he passed and apply it federally. He felt strongly that this can be done without interfering with the NRA's goal of protecting our right to bear arms while asserting that our government still absolutely must have the legal right to protect the lives of citizens by limiting what type of weapon one may own based on its potential to cause mass destruction. The difference between owning a hand gun for self-protection or a rifle for hunting and owning an assault weapon to inflict mass destruction is huge and thus our government should have every right to protect us by limiting people's ability to own an assault weapon, especially if they are found by a thorough background check to have either a current or potential mental health issue that may make them more susceptible to want to inflict harm. Our right to bear arms for protection in America is based on interpretations of biblical commandments from God to Moses that instruct him to amass and train an army to protect the people from their perceived enemies. The Hebrew term Haba Lehorgecha, Hashkem Lehorgo – If one rises to kill you, you must kill him or her first – is a rabbinic deduction of the instances in the Torah that regard protection of the people but nowhere in the Torah is there a commandment or instruction to assault or kill human beings unnecessarily. Human lives and human souls must be protected and therefore gun control laws – ones that allow us to own weapons for self-protection but not for assault – are right and just and should be implemented as soon as humanly possible. I hope and pray that the day will come when the need to protect ourselves will be altogether unnecessary as we learn to rise above our hate and fear and treat each other only with love and respect. Until that day comes, let gun laws protect us from brutal weapons of mass destruction. Amen!

“The Hebrew term Haba Lehorgecha, Hashkem Lehorgo – If one rises to kill you, you must kill him or her first – is a rabbinic deduction of the instances in the Torah that regard protection of the people but nowhere in the Torah is there a commandment or instruction to assault or kill human beings unnecessarily.”

New Year, New Website!

Welcome back! I hope that everyone had an enjoyable summer with some opportunities to refresh and get some much-needed down time. While it has been relatively quiet in terms of programs the past few months at TBS, we have been hard at work on something new – a new website!

An organization's website has many functions. It provides information for folks already connected. It helps seekers find their way to joining a community. It is an advertising tool. It is where we can celebrate our successes together and bring comfort in times of loss. A website is often the first place an individual goes to find out more.

For those reasons, and more, it was time to give our website an upgrade. Specifically, we came to understand that a fresh, new site, with some upgraded capabilities, will enable us to tell our story better to the benefit of our current membership and for potential members as well. I'd like to share a little of what you will see when the site launches and provide a sense of our thought process and how we hope the site will be used by you and so many others.

Our basic goal from the start of the project was to design a site that was more intuitive to use, with enhanced functionality on a few specific items, and give it a brighter, more contemporary feel. To accomplish that we worked with our design firm, Masters Group Design, to design and build our new site. We feel that it is modern, intuitive to navigate, and overall a bit cleaner than our current site.

One thing you will notice right away is that each section is color-coded. This will function as a kind of internal vocabulary to the site so you always know what section you are looking for and what section you are currently looking at. We also consolidated some of the categories for a more nimble and uncluttered site.

We know that many of us like to deal with forms and payments electronically. Our new site can do that. Whether you are registering for religious school or Makom, letting us know of someone to add to the Misheberach list, pay a bill, sign up for a program, or make a donation – our new site will be able to accommodate all of that right from your computer, phone, or tablet. In fact, the site was built first for mobile and it is optimized so you can check out all that TBS has to offer on the go!

Finally, all of our events from all of the different departments of the synagogue will be easy to find, clearly labeled, and with the ability for you to add it directly to your personal electronic calendar with one click.

This is a big undertaking and we expect that there will be a few kinks to work out in the early stages after launch. We rely on your feedback to help us know what is working well and what could use improvement. Please know that we had you, our members, perspective members, and the larger community in mind with this new design. And of course, our team is here to help you learn and grow with our new digital presence.

As we begin the New Year together, our new website comes along with it. The core of who we are has not changed and we are excited to see the benefits that this new site will bring. As new functions and new information become available, you will be the first to know!

Wishing you a Shannah Tovah and we hope you visit our new site often.

FROM THE EXECUTIVE BOARD

by Madeline Yousefzadeh, VP Religious Affairs

I wake up early in the morning, it is hard to get out of bed, but I look at my husband David and say: "time to go." We get ready while it is still dark outside and drive to Temple Beth Sholom. We try to be there early so we can ensure a minyan, and have a chance to talk. The regulars, the mourners and those saying kaddish for a loved one trickle in. We hope we will have a minyan to start the service at 6:45 am. Thanks to our regular minyan attendees, most days we do have enough people, but when the regulars are away we can't be sure.

Like many of you, I never thought about this until my father passed away about fourteen years ago. For a whole year I attended the morning and evening minyan to say kaddish for my father. It was only then that I realized how frustrating it is not to have enough people, having to wait, and at times not having a minyan to say kaddish. So I made a decision to be there for others as they had been there for me.

Like many of you I feel blessed to be a part of our vibrant synagogue. We have dedicated clergy and wonderful lay leaders who ensure that we have a minyan twice a day and lead the services during the summer months. Thank you to Ellen Walk for making our Shabbat morning experience during the summer months so enjoyable. We were enlightened by and enjoyed the divrei Torah by our lay leaders.

In order to create a more meaningful Shabbat morning service satisfying the diverse needs of our synagogue: members who arrive at services closer to 10 am, as well as those who desire a full Shabbat service starting at 9 am, there will be a change in the Shabbat morning service format.

While the Shabbat morning service will start at the library/chapel at 9 am, the services in the main sanctuary will begin at 9:45 am, welcoming the B'nai Mitzvah families and their guests. There will be a shortened early morning service and Shacharit Service, followed by our regular Torah service and musaf. The service at the chapel starting at 9 am will be more informal and will include a full early morning and Shacharit Service, followed by a parsha of the week Torah study around 9:35 am. At 10:05 am everyone will join the service in the main sanctuary with the regular Torah Service, Rabbi's sermon and musaf. We tried this format for a few Shabbats during the past year and the feedback has been very positive.

Our High Holidays will begin with Erev Rosh Hashanah on Sunday night September 29th and will end on Simchat Torah on October 22nd. So the busy time of preparation has already started for us. The clergy and the High Holiday committee have been hard at work during the summer, planning and taking care of the details to ensure a smooth and enjoyable service for everyone.

Thank you to Barry Epstein and David Wasserman for working hard during the summer and for the herculean task of taking care of the details, and making every effort to make sure all parts were taken care of and the honors were given out. At a congregation the size of TBS, and with the limited number of aliyot and honors available, we try to be fair in giving out the honors. We ask you to respond to the letters you get informing you of your honor, and be there at the appropriate time. If you know that you will be unable to be there for your honor, please let us know so someone else will be able to have that honor.

I am looking forward to seeing everyone at the High Holidays and celebrating Simchat Torah honoring Phyllis Pellman, Lisa Berger and Adam Guttell.

Looking forward to a great year ahead, Le'shana Tova Tikateivu!

Madeline

We will kick off our year together with a BBQ on September 9th at Rabbi Allen's home. The following week we will partner with BethRock USY, our high school youth group, for a fun filled evening of getting to know each other and exploring the opportunities that you have to do Jewish with one another. On September 23rd we will welcome Rabbi Mike Uram, Executive Director of the University of Pennsylvania Hillel, for a discussion on how to make your Jewish home on campus when you get to college. After our session, the whole community is invited to hear Rabbi Uram speak about BDS and anti-Semitism on campus and around the world.

BARNET & ANNETTE OSTROW EARLY CHILDHOOD CENTER

by Suzy Freier, Director of Early Childhood Center

I would like to welcome our new and returning families to the Early Childhood Center for the 2019/2020 school year. The teachers are all busy getting ready for school to begin and excited to meet their students.

We are implementing more STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) activities into our already stimulating curriculum for all ages. Our approach to learning is play-based.

This approach involves both child-initiated and teacher-supported learning. Children explore, experiment, discover and solve problems in imaginative and playful ways. These interactions stretch the children's thinking to higher levels.

September is a month of making new friends, getting adjusted to classroom routines and becoming familiar with new teachers. At the end of the month we will learn about Rosh Hashanah and welcome in the sweet New Year.

Things to look forward to in October are Sukkot, where we celebrate with Pizza in the Hut and shake the lulav and etrog to show that God is all around us. Simchat Torah is observed by having a parade around the school with our stuffed torahs while singing songs. On October 29th, we invite the Dads/Special Persons to come to school to share a fun morning with the 3s and 4s classes.

As you can see, we have a lot to look forward to and cannot wait for the school year to begin.

Warmly, Suzy

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

by Sharon Solomon, Director of Religious School

What does it mean to empower students and give them a voice? What does it look like when a young person's ideas, opinions and concerns become a vital component of their Jewish education, as well as the overall classroom dynamic? Here at the Temple Beth Shalom Religious School, we understand that to enter a classroom means to enter into a conversation, and that sometimes those conversations need to begin with what our students have to say. Over the past few years, TBS has implemented holistic, project-based learning to our Jewish school curriculum in an effort to go beyond the texts and foster a true and lasting Jewish community. This year, we've built upon this goal by adopting a Responsive Classroom Approach, which will further engage students by providing them with a platform to express their curiosity, explore their interests through a Judaic lens, and become active participants in defining their own Jewish identities.

So what exactly is Responsive Classroom Approach, and how might it further our objective of enriching our children's Religious School experience? For starters, Responsive Classroom Approach (which has also been adopted by many public schools throughout the country) is based upon the premise that students both perform better and find greater value in their education when they are invested in the subject matter. Following this premise, the goal for an educator is to then create a bridge between the students' interests and the texts and lessons being discussed.

For example, an issue that many students worry about these days is global warming and the well-being of our planet. With a Responsive Classroom Approach, the first step would be to allow students to give voice to these concerns; to share their opinions, fears, solutions and ideas on the subject. Then, it is the teacher's job to "bridge" this conversation, allowing students to see their modern-day concerns reflected in Judaism and applied to a variety of wide-spread topics such as mitzvot, Shabbat, the State of Israel, Tu Bishvat, Tikkun Olam (repairing the world) and so forth. Through their genuine and organic interests, students are given the freedom to become agents of change in the world, using Judaism as a foundation to forge meaningful lives.

There is much research on the educational effectiveness of a Responsive Classroom Approach. Findings show that some of the greatest effects are stronger teacher-student relationships, as well as improved student-student interactions. Studies find that when integrating academic, social and emotional learning, as opposed to focusing strictly on curriculum, that both the emotional health and overall academic achievement of the student-body is bolstered.

Another aspect of Responsive Classroom Approach that will be implemented into the TBS classroom this year is Morning Meeting. Morning Meeting instructs teachers to inform their students of the schedule for the day, which will lead to more organized and functional classroom dynamics. Nowadays, kids are faced with lots of stress, and it has been found that Morning Meeting can be a valuable tool in setting students' minds at ease, while encouraging them to take initiative and responsibility for their classroom experience.

As a new year unfolds here at the Temple Beth Shalom Religious School, we are eager to create a strong and interactive educational environment packed with exciting, Jewish-based activities and events. Part of being an innovative religious school means moving forward and elevating the possibilities for a comprehensive and inclusive Jewish education. In addition to training our staff and integrating this new method, we will be piloting the Responsive Classroom Approach with our Gimel and Torah classes, with an eye towards future expansion of this program. Together, we can strengthen our Religious School, and revitalize the classroom as a space for Jewish learning, community and meaningful conversation.

SISTERHOOD SCOOP

by Helaine Kurtzman, Sisterhood President

Welcome back to a wonderful, exciting New Year of Sisterhood. As always we have many different programs and events planned. Our September meeting will take place on September 12th and Rabbi Lucas will be our guest speaker. In September we will also be starting our adult education classes on September 17th. Looking ahead to October we will have our annual Sukkot Meeting and Party on October 16. Our first of two author nights will be on October 28th at 7:45 PM. Margalit Fox, the author of Conan Doyle for the Defense will be our guest speaker. The fee is $5 if you pay in advance and $10 at the door.

October 4th begins an exciting month with our opening meeting followed by Dr. Norman Fried's first class on Torah Therapy. Calling all bakers on November 14th for our Annual Challah Baking. Did you know that the same dough that is used to bake Challah is also used for Babka? Well it is and we will be baking both! Naturally children, parents, and grandparents are invited to this fun filled evening. Look for further information about this and our fall gathering on November 18th. We are looking forward to a new and exciting format for the evening.

Of course our usual programs and classes will be returning. This includes the Book Club, Rabbi's and Cantor's classes, Yiddishkeit with Ruth Solomon. The first meeting of the evening book club will be on September 17th. The daytime book club will meet on September 18th. As always the discussion will be lead by Wende Jaeger-Hyman.

It is my intention to highlight a different member of our Sisterhood Board in every issue of the Bulletin. This month I would like to introduce you to our new Executive Vice-President, Rose Warshawsky. Rose, her husband Martin and their two wonderful sons have been temple members for many years. Rose has just retired after many years as a head lawyer with the Internal Revenue Service. She has been active in the Temple and now she is bringing her expertise to Sisterhood.

Celebrating at our Installation.

Another new member to our board is Risa Borsykowsky. As a result of Risa's expertise, many of our evening classes will be offered online. Thus people will be able to participate from their homes. This utilizes something called Zoom. If this is unfamiliar to you, it is unfamiliar to me too. However, it sounds like an exciting opportunity to expand our horizons.

In the next issue we will learn more about Risa Borsykowsky and another new board member, Eva Drabkin.

Please remember to pay your Sisterhood dues. If you want to volunteer to help, or if you have any new ideas for events, please contact me at (516) 456-4044 or kurtzhell@hotmail.com.

OUR WISHLIST

This year TBS has identified a “Wish List” to guide all of those who are inspired to donate financially!

TEMPLE BETH SHOLOM HAS A LONG, RICH HISTORY OF SERVING THE JEWISH COMMUNITY OF ROSLYN.

Since 1951, we have provided a wide tent, a nurturing spiritual home in which Jews are welcome in good times and in times of need. We are known for inspirational worship, celebration of life cycle events, creative Jewish education, exceptional clergy and leadership. We offer three outstanding religious schools, as well as cutting edge adult education programs, and unequaled family learning programs.

TBS is a proud, generous, caring Jewish community. Members are frequently moved to demonstrate their support of our goals, both as volunteers and with financial donations. We appreciate their gifts of time and money: they are all gifts from the heart.

For more information, please call Donna Bartolomeo, Executive Director at 516-621-2288 or contact Morty Schaja, Vice President of Finance and Fundraising, fundraising@tbsroslyn.org.

DAY CAMP NEWS

by Holly Firestone, Camp Director &
Gayle Jukofsky, Assistant Camp Director

Summer 2019 was our best year yet! We had a blast watching our campers grow and play. From theme days to trips, special events, and everything in between, there truly was no regular day at camp. Campers enjoyed learning T-Ball, Softball, and Football with our new Sport Specialist this summer.

Pedal Go-Karts, Hockey, & Pee Wee Pros continue to be the favorite activities. Science and Computer Explorers STEM Lab were also a camper pick. This summer we went for the first time to see a Lizards Lacrosse game and the campers even got to meet some of the players! Frozen was a hit as well as our overnight to Camelbeach and Great Wolf Lodge. We can't wait to see what is to come in Summer 2020!

We're already planning for BSDC Summer 2020 and hope to see YOU there! Now is the time to take advantage of our SUPER EARLY BIRD RATES for next summer! These will be the LOWEST rates of the year. Lock them in now for savings you won't see again! Don't forget, as returning campers if you refer a new camp family and they register you also will receive a $250 credit! Help us spread the word by registering today and sharing everything YOU love about BSDC with your family and friends! Holly and Gayle wish all of our campers, staff, camp parents and friends a successful and enjoyable school year! See you in 2020!

THE JOSHUA SOCIETY

In Proverbs 27:18 Joshua says:

“WHOEVER TENDS THE TREE WILL EAT ITS FRUIT.”

As the protégé and successor of Moses, Joshua was a dreamer and a doer - a visionary and leader who ultimately led the Jews into Israel.

CONTRIBUTORS TO THE JOSHUA SOCIETY WILL BE BOTH DREAMERS AND DOERS, LEADING AND STRENGTHENING FOR TOMORROW.

TORAH FUND

by Janet Cohen Eder

The theme of this year's Torah Fund campaign is chesed – loving kindness – to convey the deep love that animates Jewish acts of kindness, done without thought of reward. Throughout the years, Torah Fund monies have enhanced the lives of students in every way: financially, educationally, socially and spiritually. We have given a wonderful gift to ensure that our students are well prepared to face the challenges ahead. They will be the ones who will devise the types of ritual, spiritual, communal and learning experiences for the Jewish people both in our synagogues, in our schools, in our universities and summer camps, bringing Judaism to our people.

The bible has numerous examples of chesed, such as Abraham and Sarah welcoming strangers to their tent in the heat of the day; Abraham's servant's prayer for a wife for Isaac; and Ruth, who shows loyalty and kindness to Naomi after Naomi's great loss. Torah Fund needs the support of each of our Sisterhoods and congregations to protect, uphold, and ensure that our places of learning remain strong and afford our students the opportunity to stand proudly on our bimahs to welcome us into our synagogues for years to come.

Benefactor	$ 180.00
Guardian	$ 300.00
Associate Patron:	$ 600.00
Patron:	$ 1200.00
Cards (all occasions)	$ 5.00
Certificates:	$ 18.00

The rabbinic tradition has enacted many laws to formalize our commitment to kindness, making chesed one of the three pillars of Jewish life. The world rests on three things: Torah; service of God; and on deeds of loving kindness. We are looking forward to a year filled with loving kindness, helped in part by the acts of Phyllis Pellman and her committee for their tireless efforts on the part of Sisterhood's program of Tikun

Olam – to Repair the World.

Todah Rabah, thank you very much.

Shabbat Sharon

Scrapbook

During Sharon's 13 years as Director of TBS Religious School, she has touched and impacted the lives of hundreds of families.

We invite you to share some special memories and/or photos that we will compile into a scrapbook that will be presented to Sharon at the dinner.

We are asking for a donation of $36/full page, $18/half page which will be used to enhance religious school programming.

Please submit either a full page or half page with check payable to Temple Beth Shalom by August 30th (Attn: Shabbat Sharon scrapbook).

College Youth

Do you have a child or grandchild in College?
Do you want to keep them connected to Temple Beth Shalom?

For only $50.00 per student (Sisterhood Member) or $65 (non-Sisterhood Member), Sisterhood will send a package of holiday goodies 4 times a year. We will send a small package for Rosh Hashanah and larger packages for Chanukah, Purim and Pesach. Just let us know names and addresses.
