THE KEYS TO SHABBAT

Right before I started in Roslyn, my wife Vicki and I went on vacation. While in Mexico City, staying in the fashionable Polanco neighborhood, we went to the Conservative synagogue called Bet El for Friday night Services. We had to register in advance to let them know we would be coming (for security reasons). We also saw a friend of mine from Camp Ramah in California, where we had been teenagers together, and caught up with how our lives had both diverged and converged (she became a Reform cantor).

One particular of that Friday night Service that stood out was the accompaniment of the entire service on a piano. Before I came to Roslyn, I hadn't participated in a shabbat with instrumental accompaniment since my teens in Los Angeles. It wasn't merely the instrument, though, that gave this Service its particular sabor. The choice of music and the type of playing made clear that the Service was meant to be soothing, an island of quietude in the midst of a hectic week. When talking to Jamie (my cantor friend) about the Service, she told us that her weekly Friday night Service was almost exactly the same as the one we experienced. The calm musical settings brought me back to a session I attended at the Rabbinical Assembly convention in Mexico City in 2006, given by rabbis from Argentina. They played us music from their Shabbat Services and insisted that the Friday night Service each week was an oasis for their congregants, the one place they could depend on to feel calm when their country and its economy and government were in violent and nasty free fall.

I learned from these encounters that although the words of the prayers might be the same the world over, every particular expression, every gathering of Jews to welcome Shabbat has its own unique flavor, whether sung a capella or with instrumental accompaniment. Being with Jews in times of bereavement or exhaustion or agitation, it should be obvious that no one expression of davening fits every occasion, or every person. I, myself, enjoy Cantor Barnoy's lively guitar music and the exciting full-throated rendition we regularly host each Friday night. But it would be foolish to assume that there is only one way to connect us to heaven. I believe there are many doors, unlocked by many keys. The space for expression is vast. The paths toward holiness are numerous. The ways into the spirit of Shabbat, transporting us from wherever we might find ourselves on a given Friday afternoon to that other zone, the Shabbat world, are myriad.

When I was going through a divorce from my first wife, I found a particularly helpful and accessible portal to enter Shabbat each week. I'd sit in the hot tub at the apartment complex where I lived, relaxing for an hour before heading off to shul each Friday night. The quiet and the warmth (at a time when nobody else was there) numbed the pain of separation I felt. When I was in college, pizza was the go-to Shabbat dinner choice of my close friends. When our son was young, our Friday night routine included meeting other young parents at shul where the kids could play together while we sang songs that allowed us to be people despite being parents all week long.

Our Friday night regulars enjoy each week together, but I am certain that so many more people could find something that speaks more personally to them. Shabbat is a beautiful gift that, when unwrapped, can signal belonging, beauty and even transcendence. Once a month, I pledge to put together a Friday night Service that changes the game for people, expanding your horizon to connect with the world of prayer in ways you never imagined. Soulful harmonies, delicious tapas, mystical poems, visual tableaux of hundreds of candles, singing without books – so many paths to explore. I hope you will savor the anticipation of different moods and colors and flavors helping us unlock the portal to Shabbat that speaks directly to your soul! Reserve Friday, January 30 for an evening filled with the soulful sounds of Jazz!

I believe there are many doors, unlocked by many keys. The space for expression is vast. The paths toward holiness are numerous. The ways into the spirit of Shabbat, transporting us from wherever we might find ourselves on a given Friday afternoon to that other zone, the Shabbat world, are myriad.

THE WINTER LIGHTS

This time of year, we all get a bit of the winter blues which is why its great that we celebrate Hanukkah precisely now. Jews light candles to publicize the miracle of the oil but our non-Jewish friends also use lights to illuminate their homes and get rid of the blues. There is even a Hanukkah song in Hebrew that expresses this beautifully: Banu choshech legaresh uv'yadenu or va esh - We came to banish the darkness, armed with fire and lights.

A couple of weeks ago, Roslyn Village held their annual Holiday Lighting Ceremony by the Roslyn Clock Tower. It is sponsored by the Roslyn Chamber of Commerce and our own member Barbara Kaplan is instrumental in producing the event every year. She has been gracious in inviting the Rabbi and me for many years to participate by reciting the Hanukkah blessings and lighting the Hanukkah menorah that is set right next to the town Christmas tree. Also participating are local Church clergy and choirs who came to sing beautiful and familiar Christmas carols and I actually had the pleasure of accompanying them on my guitar as well as the Hanukkah songs that we sang. Even though it was cold outside, it was a warm celebration of friendship and camaraderie. After the lighting ceremony we all enjoyed holiday treats provided by Delicacies Gourmet, Diane's Bakery and Meat Maven - which is a kosher butcher right across from the Clock Tower. (As a side note - we are lucky to have a kosher butcher in town and we should do our best to support them by purchasing kosher meat there so they can stay in business for many years to come.)

Here are a few photos taken of the event. Next year, come and join the festivities!!

May the holiday lights help to alleviate any winter blues in your life!

Happy New Year!

HAPPY "NU" YEAR

Happy New Year to our entire TBS family. As we step into 2026 together, I would like to wish each of you a Happy "NU" Year, nu meaning what's up in Yiddish. And truly, there is so much "nu" and very exciting coming up at TBS.

To start, we are thrilled to welcome our new Executive Director, Mindy Kremer, who officially begins in January. Mindy brings to us many years of experience in the world of Jewish organizations, and in programming and education. Please take a moment to stop by the office, say hello, and help her feel at home and welcomed into our community.

I also want to share some good news: Eileen recently had successful back surgery and is recovering well. She is grateful for the outpouring of good wishes, support and love from so many of you.

As part of our ongoing Senior Rabbi search, we were honored to host Rabbi David Lerner last month. Our second candidate, Rabbi Bryan Wexler, will be joining us the weekend of January 9th - 10th. We encourage everyone to attend Services, meet him and be part of this important process for our congregation's future.

We hope you have noticed a fresh look in our communications! We are unveiling a new series of TBS logos, each representing a different part of our synagogue life. You will notice them at the top of our bulletin pages to help identify our different branches of synagogue life. A heartfelt thank-you to our talented Communication Coordinator, Barbara Cooper for her redesign of our logos, and the entire design committee for their creative input and dedication.

On the minyan front, we continue to rely on your participation. Your presence is what sustains our daily prayer community, and every person truly makes a difference. We are placing the order of our first 30 trees to be planted in Israel. These certificates will be mailed to those of you who have met the Chai challenge of attending 18 minyanim.

Our Sisterhood and Men's Club continue to bring inspiring, meaningful and joyful programming to our congregation; this month we will be celebrating a Tu Bishvat Seder. Our Adult education C.L.A.S.S. and A.W.E. initiatives have scheduled wonderful speakers with the hope of reaching all of you on any one of these varied topics. As we look ahead, our calendar is filled with B'nai Mitzvah celebrations and many opportunities to come together in support, pride and community.

A heartfelt thanks to each of our clergy, school directors, our office and maintenance staff, our volunteers and everyone who makes TBS the amazing synagogue it is!!

As we start this "NU" year, may we all find "NEW" ways to connect, uplift one another and celebrate the blessings of Jewish life together.

Wishing you a year of health, joy, and Shalom Bayit.

CELEBRATING GROWTH, COMMUNITY, AND THE NEW YEAR TOGETHER

As Ferris Bueller wisely reminded us, Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it. And here at the ECC, life has been moving at preschool speed—which is to say, very fast, slightly unpredictable and always entertaining. Somehow, we've blinked and reached the halfway point of the school year, marveling at how much your children have learned, explored and grown. But what a joyful, bustling, laughter-filled first half it's been. The months ahead promise just as much heart, celebration and ECC magic. Through it all, our ECC continues to be guided by the Jewish values that shape our community: kindness, justice, gratitude, responsibility and joy.

As we step into 2026, our classrooms are overflowing with the spirit of Hakarat HaTov recognizing the good. We are grateful for your children's bright energy each morning, for the partnerships we have with our families and for the opportunity to build a warm, nurturing environment where Jewish values come alive through play, curiosity and friendship.

In January, our children will explore lessons inspired by the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. through age-appropriate stories and activities focused on fairness, friendship and using our words for kindness. We highlight the Jewish value of Tzedek, the message is simple, powerful and perfectly suited for preschoolers: We use our words for kindness, our hands for helping, and our hearts to make the world better.

January also includes one of our most beloved traditions: PJ Shema Night. Children will come dressed in cozy pajamas, bringing families together for songs, stories and that comforting bedtime moment we all cherish. We look forward to a warm and peaceful evening that reminds us how meaningful it is to slow down and connect.

This season brings one of our favorite holidays: Tu B'Shevat, the birthday of the trees. In Jewish tradition, trees symbolize growth, renewal and our responsibility to care for the world – Bal Tashchit, the commandment not to waste, is one of the lessons we weave into our conversations about nature. Our children will be digging into planting activities, exploring nature both inside and out, and learning how even the smallest hands can help care for our planet. If your child comes home urging environmental responsibility (or insisting your family adopt a tree), just know we consider that a win.

Before the Super Bowl, the ECC will brighten our hallways with Football Friday. Children wear jerseys or team colors, and the energy in the building is always bright, playful and full of laughter. We celebrate together, cheer each other on and enjoy a lighthearted moment that reminds us that joy is a vital part of Jewish learning. Plus, preschoolers take team pride very seriously and we respect their devotion.

Picture Day is coming in February, giving us the chance to capture your children's growing personalities and priceless expressions. We do our best to smooth fly aways, straighten collars and sneak in one picture without a silly face. These photos always become treasured keepsakes.

As Presidents' Day approaches, we talk with the children about community helpers and what it means to be a leader in kindness, in problem-solving and in making good choices. These simple lessons help children understand the world in ways that feel accessible and meaningful.

It's hard to believe we are at the midpoint of our school year. The children have grown in confidence, maturity, creativity and connection, and we couldn't be prouder.

The second half of the year promises more celebrations, more learning and more opportunities to nurture Jewish identity in joyful, age-appropriate ways. Thank you for being part of this warm and wonderful community. We can't wait to see what the second half of the year brings.

With warmth and appreciation,

Stephanie

LIVING OUR JEWISH VALUES: SEVENTH GRADERS BRING JOY TO ATRIA RESIDENTS

Seventh grade students from Temple Beth Sholom have been putting the Jewish value of kibbud zikayn, honoring and caring for our elders, into action through monthly volunteer visits to The Atria, an assisted living residence in Roslyn Harbor. What began eight years ago as an exciting idea has grown into a beloved tradition, where communities are connected and bonds are strengthened between generations.

and seniors to celebrate the joyous festival of Hanukkah together through food and song. Giggles, joy and chatter among students and seniors have been highlights of each visit.

Looking ahead, students and seniors will join together in additional games and crafts. A Purim party, as well as lively spring activities are planned. Most importantly, there will be continued conversations that deepen relationships as the year continues.

Through their participation, our students see that mitzvot are not merely something to talk about doing, but instead are important Jewish actions that make a difference to others. This experience of living Jewish values is especially important as the students prepare to celebrate becoming Bar or Bat Mitzvah and show that they can be responsible for doing these mitzvot. What makes this program even more impactful is that many students choose to continue volunteering beyond seventh grade and Bar/Bat Mitzvah. Many high schoolers return, not because they have to, but because they feel connected to the residents and the experience. Their continued involvement adds another layer of meaning: they serve as mentors and role models for the new seventh graders who are just beginning their volunteer journey. They show what it looks like to integrate compassion and service into everyday Jewish life.

This meaningful program, Buddies at the Atria on Roslyn Harbor, was developed by longtime Temple Beth Sholom Religious School educator, Hanna Harel, who continues to direct the program with dedication and heart. Each month, Morah Hanna designs creative, hands-on programs that enable students to spend time interacting with the residents. The students and seniors share conversation and companionship as they play games, sing, create art projects and celebrate Jewish holidays. Together, memories are made that last well beyond the visit.

The Buddies at Atria on Roslyn Harbor program remains a shining example of community partnership, holiday celebration and Jewish values in action. We are grateful to Morah Hanna and our students for their leadership and willingness to make a difference over these past eight years. As we look to the future, we are confident that this special tradition will continue to grow and will create more friendships, more shared stories and more reminders that honoring our elders is not only a mitzvah, but a lifelong privilege.

Only a few months into the year, the program has already been a huge success. In September, at the program's kick-off event, the students and seniors got to know one another through a unique Guess Who style game in which they were each introduced to famous personalities from the other's generation, including Frank Sinatra, Princess Diana, Kobe Bryant and Spider-Man. Two of our students displayed their talents on the piano with their buddies. October and November brought the opportunity to participate in creating beautiful art projects together, including a fall wreath and a beautiful Giving Thanks plate that they could either keep or give to someone special. December's visit enabled the students

CARRYING THE HANUKKAH LIGHT INTO THE NEW YEAR AND ONTO THE ICE

As this article is being written, Hanukkah is in full swing. Candles are being lit, latkes are being eaten, and our homes and community are filled with warmth and light. By the time you're reading this, the holiday will have passed, but its message feels especially meaningful as we move into the new year.

These past few weeks have been a heavier and darker time for the Jewish community. And yet, Hannukah reminds us that even in moments of darkness, light, strength and connection continue to shine through. We've seen that resilience in so many ways, by showing up for one another, celebrating proudly and finding joy together.

One place we see that light every week is in our religious school, thanks to our amazing Madrichim (Makom High School students who serve as teacher helpers). Our Madrichim bring energy, patience and heart into the classroom. Whether they're helping lead activities, working one-on-one with students, or simply being a friendly and familiar face, they help create a space that feels welcoming and joyful for our religious school students. We are so grateful for the major role they play in our community.

We also felt that sense of togetherness recently at the New York Islanders Jewish Heritage Night, where our community had a blast cheering, celebrating Jewish pride and sharing a really special night together. One of the highlights was getting to take a group picture on the ice at the end of the game! It was definitely a moment that we won't forget. Thank you so much to everyone who came out and made it such a fun and meaningful experience.

The fun isn't over yet! We're already looking forward to the Israel Elite Hockey League game.

Jerusalem vs. Tel Aviv at UBS Arena on February

22. We hope to see many familiar faces there as we continue to come together, celebrate and support Jewish life and community. Be on the lookout to buy tickets with us so we could all sit together!

As we head into the new year, may we continue to carry the light of Hanukkah forward in our classrooms, in our community, and yes, even at the hockey rink. Here's to a year filled with strength, connection and gratitude.

Amy

I'm thrilled to announce our rebranding! Makom High School is now TBS Teens, and that's just the beginning!

We also have an amazing new logo thanks to our fabulous Graphic Designer Barbara Cooper. After lots of planning and discussion, and then even more planning and discussion, we narrowed down our top contenders from a long list of ideas. One big debate was whether the logo should feature a Magen David (Star of David) or simply the TBS dove and menorah. Some TBS leadership worried that teens might feel hesitant wearing a Jewish symbol in today's world, but I knew better. I knew our teens' pride and passion for Judaism and for TBS would shine through, and it absolutely did! Our TBS Teens played a key role in the final decision through an Instagram poll. Ultimately, they chose a strong Magen David housing the TBS dove soaring over menorah branches. Of course, the coloring had to be cool too! The colorful gradient flows from the Early Childhood Center green and Religious School purple, where many of our teens began their TBS journey, into the main Temple Beth Sholom blue. I love that our new logo doesn't just look cool, it has meaning, history and heart. It was chosen by a community of proud Jews, and it perfectly represents the spirit of TBS Teens!

LOOKING AHEAD TO SUMMER 2026 AT BETH SHOLOM DAY CAMP

While we may be in the heart of the school year, the Beth Sholom Day Camp team is already hard at work planning an unforgettable Summer 2026! The excitement is building as we secure amazing trips and special events that campers have come to love—and a few new surprises as well.

We are thrilled to share that camp planning is well underway, and we've already booked some fantastic experiences, including Splish Splash, Topgolf, Pony Rides and, of course, our famous Beth Sholom Carnival, a camper favorite year after year. In an exciting enhancement for this coming summer, our Upper Camp (5th–8th graders) will enjoy field trips twice a week, offering even more opportunities for adventure, independence and unforgettable memories.

We are also busy preparing for our BSDC Winterfest on Sunday, February 1st, from 1:30–4:30 PM. Winterfest will feature inflatables, games, arts & crafts, face painting, and this year we're excited to welcome a DJ to keep the energy high. Families can enjoy pizza, pasta, salad and warm up with a special treat of hot cocoa. There may even be some special winter guests stopping by! We will also be hosting raffles, and you do not need to be present to win. To RSVP, learn more about raffles, or if you are able to donate an item or service (which we would be incredibly grateful for), please contact office@bethsholomdaycamp.com.

Staff hiring has officially begun for Summer 2026! We are looking for counselors, lifeguards, sports specialists, program specialists and more. Staff members must be 16 years or older and can apply online through our website at www.bethsholomdaycamp.com. Parents make wonderful staff members and may be eligible for tuition exchange. If you, or someone you know, are looking for a meaningful, fun summer opportunity, we would love to hear from you.

Families are encouraged to take advantage of our Early Bird Rates, which run through January 30th, offering savings of up to $300. Register early to secure your spot and your savings! Enrolled families can also benefit from our referral program—refer a new family who registers and receive a $250 discount. Additionally, Temple members receive special discounts for children and grandchildren, making Beth Sholom Day Camp a wonderful and accessible option for your family.

We are truly counting the days until summer and can't wait to share another season of fun, friendship and Jewish community with you. We hope you'll join us for all that's ahead at Beth Sholom Day Camp!

MEN'S CLUB CORNER

by Evan Wagner & Adam Lilling, Co-Presidents

MEN'S CLUB: BUILDING COMMUNITY, ONE EVENT AT A TIME

As we start the new year, the Men's Club at Temple Beth Sholom continues to focus on creating easy, enjoyable ways for our members to spend time together. Our recent events were a great reminder that even simple gatherings can go a long way in building connections within the community.

In November, we met at the Barefoot Peddler for a relaxed night out. The turnout was strong, and the atmosphere made it easy for everyone to chat, catch up and unwind. It was a straightforward event, but it went great and set the tone for what we hope to continue offering.

We held our Annual Comedy Night at Temple Beth Sholom on December 13, 2025. The evening was fun, light and filled with plenty of laughs. It was great to see members come together, enjoy the show and spend time with one another during a busy time of year. The feedback was positive, and we expect to bring back similar events in the future.

Looking ahead, our next outing is the Islanders game at UBS Arena on January 6, 2026. While this is one of our first sporting events, it fits nicely with our goal of adding variety to the Men's Club calendar. It should be a fun night out and a good way to keep our momentum going as we move through the winter months.

Beyond these events, we are planning more programs for 2026. Along with social outings, we want to continue creating opportunities for service, learning and connection with the larger Temple Beth Sholom community. Two examples are our Men's Club Shabbat in March and our Men's Club Seder in April, which will bring us together around tradition and community in a welcoming, comfortable setting.

If you have not joined us yet, this is a great time to get involved. The Men's Club keeps things simple and enjoyable, and we are always glad to see new faces. Whether it's the Islanders game or one of the programs coming later in the year, we hope you'll stop by and take part in what we're building.

We look forward to announcing more events soon and continuing to grow the Men's Club in a way that feels fun, easygoing and meaningful for our members. Hope to see you at an event in the near future.

Respectfully,

Evan & Adam

TORAH FUND

by Janet Cohen Eder & Nadine Kesten

OSEH SHALOM, MAKER OF PEACE!

Did you ever wonder how the theme for Torah Fund is chosen?? A committee meets to discuss the possibilities. They consider meaningful themes that are easy to pronounce. Next, they narrow the choices down to three. A lively discussion is followed by a vote to set the theme.

Like the 2024-2025 theme, Am Yisrael Chai (the People of Israel Live), they wanted to choose a meaningful theme for this campaign year.

Many prayers contain the words that have become our 2025-2026 theme: Oseh Shalom (Maker of Peace). These words from the Book of Job conclude several memorable prayers such as Birkat Hamazon, Kaddish and the Amidah. The words were even set to music; the beloved tune we all know was composed by Israeli musician Nurit Hirsch in 1969. But have you ever really thought about the prayer's meaning?

Beyond being a petition to G-d, Oseh Shalom suggests we actively work for peace in our lives, our communities and for the State of Israel. In challenging times a positive perspective encourages action rather than passive despair. Ways to work towards peace include using empathy to see the divine spark in others and building bridges to seek common ground and understanding. We can find personal peace by creating a sense of calm, comforting the bereaved and accepting help from others so they feel the joy in doing good and then bring healing to themselves.

The word Shalom commonly translated as peace, brings to mind the absence of conflict and war. But in the Torah, and in modern conversational Hebrew, shalom's root shin-lamed-mem generally refers to personal wholeness, peace and well-being. When we feel tranquil, we are open to wishing that state of mind to others.

With Torah Fund, we have the special opportunity to support our students at the five world-wide Conservative/Masorti institutes of higher Jewish Learning. Your caring donation provides scholarships and programming to train our future clergy, educators, scholars and lay leaders to keep advancing the cause of Shalom. Every donation supports the continuation of our movement, and we thank you for your support.

Oseh Shalom reminds us that peace is possible—even in times of darkness. May the One who creates peace help you realize your peace, and peace for those you love, for Israel and for all people.

Thank you for your generous fully tax-deductible donations in support of Torah Fund.

SOCIAL ACTION

TORAH TEACHES...

If I am not for myself, who will be for me? But if I am only for myself, who am I? If not now, when?
Hillel - Ethics of the Fathers, 1:14

The Danger of Complacency: Antisemitism

Antisemitism's resurgence threatens both Jewish communities and the American fiber. History shows it rarely exists alone—it emerges with authoritarianism, conspiracy thinking and eroding democratic norms.

Recent years have seen alarming increases in antisemitic incidents, from the 2018 Tree of Life massacre to ongoing harassment. Children can't wear religious symbols safely, synagogues need armed security, and families hide their Jewish identity.

On December 15, 2024, gunmen killed 15 people at a Hanukkah celebration in Sydney, including a Holocaust survivor, a 10-year-old girl and two rabbis—demonstrating that antisemitic violence strikes worldwide.

Antisemitism follows a dangerous pattern: rhetoric blaming Jews for problems, then violence testing society's protections, finally broader democratic decay. This pattern preceded Nazi Germany and Russian pogroms.

Complacency takes many forms—treating incidents as isolated, false equivalence, failing to condemn political allies, or assuming "it can't happen here." Each instance of complacency normalizes the next transgression.

What's Required: Education about antisemitism's history, vigorous hate crime prosecution, unequivocal condemnation from leaders and citizen vigilance—speaking up against conspiracy theories and supporting targeted communities.
